Seek 3 Little Girls In Dixon Area

Disappeared From Home Wednesday

DIXON, Ill. (AP) — Some 200 searchers combed a rugged area near Dixon Thursday seeking the three small Gurnsey sisters who vanished from their home Wednesday. Footprints believed to be those of Theresa Gurnsey, 10, and her sisters, Ruthie, 9, and Nancy, 8, were discovered near the Rock River but the possibility they might have tumbled in was discounted after additional footmarks were found leading away from the water.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gurnsey, who came to Dixon from Boswell, Wis., about six weeks ago, said the girls disappeared from the yard of their trailer home Wednesday afternoon. The Gurnseys have five other children.

Quarries Nearby
The family lives in a rural area two miles east of Dixon. Rough terrain abounds near the home. There are several hundred acres of timberland and several quarries which supply a nearby cement plant where John Gurnsey works.

Search Woods
The search has been centered in the woods. Lee County authorities said the three girls apparently did not attempt to return to Wisconsin since they likely would have been found already had they tried such a trip.

The sheriff's office was notified Wednesday night and searchers including the local National Guard unit and Boy Scouts began the hunt Thursday.

Soviet Accuses West Of Criminal Designs On Syria

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio accused the Western Powers Thursday night of criminal designs on Syria and said the U.S. 6th Fleet is heading for the shores of the Arab states. Commentator Boris Leontyev told British listeners in an English language broadcast: "The U.S.A. is hurriedly dispatching the 6th Fleet to an unnamed place, but it is really no secret for the ships are going to the Syrian shores."

Leontyev did not elaborate. U. S. Navy spokesmen said last night ships of the 6th Fleet had sailed for the Western Mediterranean on routine maneuvers around Italy, not connected with the Syrian situation.

MARRIAGE WASHED UP
CLEVELAND (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Felix T. Matia has heard all kinds of complaints in divorce cases but even he was startled to hear a man testify that his wife has denied him the use of the family bathtub for the past 12 years.

Eugene S. Klepek, 41, told the judge that he was forced to bathe in the basement laundry tubs because his wife would become infuriated "if I left a towel out of place or dripped water on the floor."

Highest point in West Virginia is Spruce Knob, which rises 4,860 feet above sea level.

Reuther Blasts GM's Rejection Of Proposal

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Thursday answered Reuther's proposal for a $100 price cut in 1958 car models and Reuther, interpreting the answer as an "arbitrary rejection," accused GM of "shocking disregard" of the public welfare.

President Harlow Curtice of General Motors, in the auto industry's first answer to Reuther's proposal of last week, proposed in turn that the United Auto Workers extend its GM contract two years as a "contribution to economic stability."

Reuther, the UAW president, had portrayed his proposal as a means for fighting inflation. He pledged to the auto industry that the union in turn would be willing to adjust its bargaining demands of next year.

In his reply Thursday to Reuther, Curtice made no direct reference to the $100 price cut on cars. However, he did say that prices of the company's products were not a proper subject for collective bargaining. He backed his contract extension proposal as a "constructive" anti-inflation step.

In a statement issued from his office Reuther said: "By its refusal GM has demonstrated a shocking disregard for the welfare of the American buying public and indicates its intention to go on short-changing American consumers through high prices."

The UAW president made no reference to Curtice's proposal for extension of the union contract. Reuther, commenting on General Motors' half-year profits for 1957, said GM "obviously is shedding crocodile tears when it talks about protecting the consumer and at the same time refuses to cut the prices of its products."

General Motors and the rest of the auto industry, including Chrysler and Ford of the "Big Three," negotiate new contracts with the big auto union next year. Present three-year contracts expire next spring.

Reuther made his $100 car price cut proposal to all of the Big Three. GM's comment Thursday was the first reply.

The government Thursday reported a cost of living rise for the 13th consecutive month. Under this more than a million auto workers get a 3 cents an hour pay raise effective Sept. 1 in view of the escalator contracts in the industry.

Curtice said that since General Motors set its 1957 car prices its wage rates have gone up more than 11 cents an hour and costs of good and services also have increased.

"Yet we have not increased the prices of our automobiles," he said. Pay increases currently in effect at GM, Curtice said, make the company's straight-time hourly rate 72 per cent above the rate of 1947. He said that during the same period the cost of living has gone up "only 25 per cent."

Prober Says Hoffa Has 'Convenient Forgettery'

Brewster Gets Year On Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank W. Brewster, Western boss of the Teamsters Union, Thursday received the maximum penalty for contempt of Congress — a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Despite defense protestations that Brewster acted in good faith in refusing to produce records and answer questions before the Senate Investigations subcommittee last January, U. S. Dist. Judge John J. Sirica said: "I think this was deliberate contempt on the part of the defendant."

Brewster, 60, a big, ruggedly handsome man, was allowed to remain free on $1,000 bond pending appeal.

After hearing his plea for probation denied, Brewster said he had the highest regard for the courts and congressional investigating committees and "at no time have I ever had in my mind and in my mind any intention to obstruct lawful inquiry."

He said he felt in January, and still feels, that the subcommittee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) lacked authority to investigate internal affairs of labor unions. He called the subcommittee's inquiry into labor racketeering "one of the best campaign deals" senators ever had.

By way of trying to convince Sirica that he acted in good faith, Brewster said he subsequently turned over union records and answered all questions put to him by the Senate Rackets Committee which was set up to continue the inquiry.

Brewster, chairman of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters, was convicted by Judge Sirica June 26 on 31 charges of refusing to produce records and answer questions before the subcommittee. Brewster waived a jury trial.

Brewster is the second Teamsters official sentenced for contempt of Congress for balking at testifying before the subcommittee. The first was Vincent J. La Poma, 48, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 174, Seattle, was convicted July 13 in U. S. District Court and fined $300. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended.

La Poma has filed notice of appeal. Einar O. Mohr, a vice president of the Teamsters, who also challenged the subcommittee's authority and refused to testify, will be tried in the fall. Also awaiting trial on contempt of Congress charges is Harry Reiss, an administrator of the welfare trust fund of New York Local 277 of the Allied Industrial Workers.

13-26 Million Could Have Flu, Gen. Burney Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeon Gen. Leroy Burney said Thursday it is possible that between 13 million and 26 million Americans could be sickened by Asiatic flu this fall or winter, if an epidemic occurs.

But Burney declared anew that in non-epidemic outbreaks that have occurred so far in this country, the disease "has continued to be mild," with few deaths and relatively few complications.

"And there is no reason to believe it will change," the Public Health Service chief added. Further, Burney said, there has been complete cooperation among medical, health and hospital groups in making plans "to meet the possible demands for medical care."

Burney made the statements when asked in an interview if his previous statements about there being "a very definite probability" of a large-scale epidemic included consideration of the protective value of a new but presently limited-in-supply vaccine.

Replying in the affirmative, Burney said that if no vaccine were available at all, between 17 million and 34 million might be sickened by such an epidemic if it comes.

Estimated annual production of mushrooms in the United States is 62,000,000 pounds.

The balloon itself was allowed to float free. The announcement was issued jointly by the Navy and the Perkins-Elmer Corp. of Norwalk, Conn., designers and constructors of the telescopic device.

The ascension Thursday had no connection with the 32-hour balloon flight earlier this week by Air Force Maj. David G. Simons, who reached a height of more than 100,000 feet over the Dakotas.

Jordan's King Visits Istanbul

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan arrived Thursday for what was officially announced as a private visit to Istanbul. His wife, Queen Dina, has been staying here the past two weeks.

But whether the young monarch will meet his wife, who left Jordan's royal palace 11 months ago to live in Cairo, was not known.

She was not at the airport to greet him. But welcoming Hussein were his mother, Queen Mother Sein, his brother and sister, Prince Hassan and Princess Besma, and Turkey's President Celal Bayar and Premier Adnan Menderes.

Argentina, Brazil and Chile are known as the ABC Powers.

Wiretap Reveals Plot To Aid Racketeer Dio

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's racket probers accused Teamster James R. Hoffa Thursday of suddenly developing a weak memory in the face of evidence that he plotted and schemed with racketeer Johnny Dio.

"A most convenient forgettery," Sen. Ives (R-NY) called it, scornfully.

But Hoffa, at the end of three days of questioning by the Rackets Investigating Committee, was still tough and resourceful. He had at least a partial explanation of a hole-card surprise charge sprung late Thursday by counsel Robert F. Kennedy.

Kennedy said that Hoffa was busily trying to get racketeer Dio into the Teamsters Union in 1953 at the same time that Dio was under public indictment on charges he took a $11,000 payoff to keep a union out of a Pennsylvania factory.

Kennedy said the charge, printed in the newspapers at the time, was that Dio had accepted a $11,000 payment from the employer involved, but had failed to include it on his income tax.

Hoffa's explanation was that he knew Dio was facing an income tax charge but knew nothing about any sums alleged to have been paid to Dio for work against unionization.

Committee aides said the name of the plant, at least at the time, was Queen Anne Frocks and Lady Fair Fashions, Inc., of Allentown. The committee played another round of recordings, made of wiretapped telephone conversations between Dio and Hoffa, discussing the unionization of New York taxi drivers in 1953.

Wanted Dio's Union
Repeatedly, Hoffa insisted from the witness stand that he wanted to get Dio's union — Local 102 of the old AFL-United Auto Workers — into the Teamsters Union but that this did not necessarily mean he wanted to get Dio too.

One recording represented Dio as having told Hoffa that he was about to pull a series of strikes and "I thought I'd consult with you."

'Showed Plot'
Kennedy said this conversation showed Dio and Hoffa were plotting strategy against the Teamsters who were running a counter-campaign to organize the cab drivers. Hoffa said it didn't prove that his memory was vague, etc. (Continued on Page Eleven)

STRIKE IN LODZ WRONG: GRIEVANCES WERE JUSTIFIED

WARSAW (AP) — A Polish government commission investigating last week's streetcar strike in Lodz admitted Thursday the workers were justified in their grievances about working conditions. But the commission said they were wrong to strike.

A commission preliminary report pins blame for conditions leading to the strike on the directors of the municipal streetcar system.

The report acknowledges inefficiency, top-heavy administrative bureaucracy and favoritism in promotions plus negligence in dealing with workers' grievances, about which the Lodz workers complained almost as much as they did about low wages.

From now on workers are promised that their grievances will get individual attention and written replies.

AP TO SEND RODERICK TO RED CHINA

NEW YORK (AP) — The Associated Press Thursday designated John Roderick, an old China hand, to be its first correspondent in Red China.

Roderick, now stationed in Hong Kong, was born in Waterville, Maine in September 1914. He joined The Associated Press staff in January 1937.

He went on military leave from August 1942 to November 1945. After the war he was one of the first American newsmen to report on the Communist situation in China.

Roderick, a bachelor, was appointed bureau chief at Hong Kong Jan. 2, 1956.

Cost Of Living Rises: 11th Straight Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living rose in July and for the 11th straight month set a new record, the government reported Thursday.

The July increase was one-half of 1 per cent, raising the Labor Department's consumer price index to 120.8 per cent of the 1947-49 level. A department spokesman indicated that no great decline was expected for August.

The latest jump means a wage increase for some 1,300,000 workers whose salaries are tied to the index. The increases will range from one to six cents an hour, with the bulk of the workers getting an additional three cents.

Most of the workers whose pay will go up are in the auto, farm equipment and electrical industries. The big three automakers announced an increase of three cents for 700,000 hourly workers, and increases for 188,000 salaried workers.

Smaller groups in local transit, metal industries and trucking are due to get raises. About 120,000 are in Westinghouse Electric plants.

Average spendable earnings of factory production workers went up 15 cents a week in July, the Labor Department said, but the increase was canceled out by price rises.

The July average spendable pay for a worker with three dependents was $73.46 and for a worker without dependents $68.05. Considering the price increases, purchasing power of these workers declined by three-tenths of one per cent as compared to June but was still 15 per cent above a year ago.

The Labor Department pointed to food as the villain in the latest price rise—particularly the breakfast staples, bacon, eggs and fresh fruit.

Food makes up about 30 per cent of the government's price index, and its prices rose by a full 1 per cent, on the average. That boosted the food index to 117.4 per cent of the 1947-49 average, and topped the previous record high of August 1952.

The 70 per cent of the items that make up the rest of the price index showed an overall increase of only one-fifth of one per cent.

Taste includes four qualities: sweetness, sourness, saltiness and bitterness.

Rescue Tot Who Spent Night Wedged Between 2 Buildings

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Little Eileen Fahey was rescued Thursday after a harrowing night wedged in a 6½-inch space between two buildings less than a block from her home.

She is the youngest of five children. Her father, John, is a New Haven Railroad brakeman. Eileen's mother, distraught and under sedation during the night-long search, slept peacefully through the rescue, unaware it was in progress.

Mrs. Fahey reported Eileen missing Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. More than 200 police and hundreds of volunteers joined in a search which police said was the biggest in the city's history.

Police Sgt. Warren A. McQueney held Eileen's hand while workmen cautiously removed the concrete blocks in the garage wall. The child cried and whispered, "I'm cold." McQueney assured her, "Honey, you'll be all right."

Jimmy Stewart's Advancement To General Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Movie star Jimmy Stewart failed to get his Air Force reserve star Thursday. The Senate Armed Services Committee refused to confirm his promotion from reserve colonel to brigadier general.

The film actor's advancement was blocked mainly by the efforts of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine). Mrs. Smith said Stewart is a fine fellow and she admires his acting ability and his World War II record as a combat pilot.

He hasn't been turning out for reserve training the way he should. He will get another chance next year.

Arabs Friendly To West Planning To Isolate Syria

LONDON (AP) — Arab states friendly to the West are planning to isolate Syria in an attempt to block the spread of Soviet influence through the Middle East, it was reported Thursday night.

Informed diplomats said that was the real meaning behind the diplomatic activity in the region—actively marked Thursday by the visit of the young King Hussein of Jordan to Turkey. Before leaving, the king said he was going for a rest.

These informants said the United States and Britain have decided against any open intervention that would seem to challenge little Syria's swing to the left.

The reason for the reported British-American decision is an unwillingness to interfere with what Syrians and other nations might consider to be their internal affair.

American and British diplomats around a round of intensive consultations were said to have reached the conclusion it would be far better for Syria's Arab neighbors—all strongly anti-Communist—to guard against new attempts to extend Soviet influence.

To that end, Arab countries friendly to the West already are reported consulting each other and American and British envoys in the area.

Informants said these Arab lands already appear to be generally agreed that the Syrians should be quarantined even though this may serve to crack the facade of Arab unity.

To some extent the process is already under way.

Balloon Makes Test Flight To Photograph Sun

NEW YORK (AP) — A giant unmanned balloon soared to 83,100 feet over Minnesota Thursday in a test flight for taking sharper-than-ever photographs of the sun, the Navy said.

The balloon carried a special light-sensitive pointing mechanism to aim a dummy telescope-camera. A balloon with an actual telescope-camera is expected to be sent aloft within 30 days.

The balloon was launched from New Brighton, Minn., at 5:17 a.m. (CST). It hovered 4 hours and 15 minutes at the 83,100-foot ceiling, then parachuted the pointing instruments and dummy camera to the earth about 80 miles west of Minneapolis.

The balloon itself was allowed to float free. The announcement was issued jointly by the Navy and the Perkins-Elmer Corp. of Norwalk, Conn., designers and constructors of the telescopic device.

The ascension Thursday had no connection with the 32-hour balloon flight earlier this week by Air Force Maj. David G. Simons, who reached a height of more than 100,000 feet over the Dakotas.

Dig Up Baby Buried Alive

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A 1-week-old child buried 18 hours in a shallow backyard grave was reported suffering from exposure and a slight lung infection at Talmadge Memorial Hospital Thursday.

Coroner E. R. May of Lincoln County said the child, believed dead, was buried Tuesday by its grandmother, Mrs. Pinkie Barksdale. He said the grave was behind 12 miles north of Lincoln, Ga.

Mrs. Barksdale said she heard a crying sound Wednesday and dug up the casket, a wooden box about 12 inches deep. The baby was alive.

The coroner said the baby lived through the ordeal because the box was only partially buried.

THREE INDIANA MEN CONFIRMED AS U.S. JUDGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Indiana men were confirmed Thursday by the Senate as federal judges to end a month-long stalemate.

U. S. Dist. Judge Lynn W. Parkinson of LaFayette, Ind., and John F. Hastings, a Washington, Ind., lawyer, were confirmed as judges of the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

Robert A. Grant of South Bend, Ind., a former Republican congressman, was confirmed as a district judge for northern Indiana to succeed Parkinson.

The Senate's action was by voice vote after no debate.

Police Step Up Hunt For Missing Chicago Girl

CHICAGO (AP)—Police have intensified their search for a 15-year-old high school girl, Judith Mae Andersen, who has been missing since Friday night.

Policeman Harry Penzin, former deputy chief of detectives, was appointed to head a search for her.

A dozen policemen were assigned specifically to the case Thursday while circulars containing the girl's picture were being distributed and crime lab technicians were analyzing a ransom note sent to the girl's family.

The girl's father, Ralph, a foreman in a bookbinding firm, said she might have met with foul play while she followed her custom of walking home down an alley from a girl friend's house.

Shortly before she disappeared a sailor friend reportedly told her he intended to marry another girl.

Dissected Body Of Woman Found In Oil Drum

CHICAGO (AP)—A woman's dissected body was found Thursday night in an oil drum floating in Montrose Harbor on the North Side.

The oil drum and its contents were discovered by a 16-year-old youth sailing with his father, The youth, Roger Ryan, and his father, L. J. Ryan, towed the barrel to a nearby pier with the help of another boater, Waldo Pearson.

Lincoln Park police pried the lid off the drum and found the body stuffed inside. Lt. James Gorman said the body had been neatly dissected, the woman's head, arms and legs severed.

Coroner's investigators and police crime laboratory technicians were called to the scene.

Gorman estimated the victim's age at about 30. He said the 55-gallon oil drum was quite rusty and it appeared as though it might have been in the water for some time.

NO SHELL GAME—This is serious business dealing with Asiatic flu. The bacteriologist at Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, Ind., injects embryonated eggs with the Asian virus as part of the development program to produce a new vaccine. The eggs provide a natural media for growing the virus strain. The virus was isolated by U.S. Army medical teams early in the Far East epidemic and shipped to this country for study. Six pharmaceutical houses began work on a vaccine in May.

Editorial Comment

Mavericks In China

There was wide agreement that the State Department's ban on newsmen visiting Red China was a mistake. The defiant trip to China of 40-odd U. S. young people seems unlikely to be viewed in the same light.

Foreign correspondents are risk-takers by profession. They usually understand well the hazards of any venture they undertake. Naturally they want as much protection from their government as they can get, but they don't often complain if they move into places where it can't be assured.

The ordinary tourist, young or old, isn't accustomed to gauging travel risks carefully. The State Department properly substitutes its judgment for the tourists in this matter. And, quite commonly, it bars normal travel in areas it regards as unsafe.

Communist China has been so classified by the department for a long time. In times past, various eastern European countries have been on the barred list. A citizen's passport bears a stamp specifically forbidding travel in such zones.

The young Americans who have now gone from Moscow's youth festival to Red China at Peiping's invitation are in violation of clear passport regulations. They have been bluntly warned not to go by high diplomatic officials, and have chosen to ignore these warnings.

The fact that they are curious to see Red China is no justification. Many people may have been curious to inspect war zones at various times in the last two decades, but that did not mean it made sense for them to go.

The department has stressed that these youngsters may prove to be tools of Red propaganda on their tour. Perhaps so and perhaps not. But the principle at stake is whether regulations are made to be obeyed or broken.

Since the government has the responsibility of protecting its nationals wherever they go, it must have the authority to govern their travels within reasonable limits. If every citizen were free to defy that authority at will, it would not amount to much.

The most charitable thing to be said about the best of these kids is that they are well meaning but badly misguided. The worst of them may well be playing somebody else's game.

Senatorial Dignity

For years TV master of ceremonies Ed Sullivan has been planting prominent people in his audiences to be introduced along the way.

One of the standard show business gags tells of the fellow who was billed onstage because he "wasn't important enough to be in the audience."

Evidently Senator Bush of Connecticut thinks the performers on the Senate floor may be similarly downgraded the way things are going.

Of recent times all manner of individuals and groups — Hollywood folk, high school bands, distinguished constituents — have been frequenting the Senate galleries. Down below, senators have been pointing them out with pride.

As Bush sees it, the Senate is being reduced to a publicity platform for movie actors and the like. He wants the pointing stopped. Some of his colleagues agree.

It's not only the Senate's dignity and decorum that is involved. The boys down on the floor may not hold cards in the actors' unions. But more than a handful are pretty handy themselves when it comes to reading lines and carving the air with gestures. Why put the spotlight on the competition upstairs?

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — If Daniel Boone were born again tomorrow, he'd die of claustrophobia before he could be a teen-ager.

He couldn't survive the eternal sameness of life that is a growing curse in a civilization becoming ever more crowded.

How crowded can one get? Well, I was told the other day of a psychiatrist who now makes his patients lie down on his couch in pairs and tell their troubles to each other. The doctor allows one of his ears to each patient.

The individual man is getting lost even more deeply in the mass of mankind. The new fetid words are teamwork and togetherness.

Modern man's crying need is for some form of self-expression, some way to prove his own individuality, the thing that sets him apart from rock, stone, tree and—yes, even all his other fellow men.

He needs, in other words, to be different so that his treadmill days will know the spice of variety.

THOUGHTS

Arise, for this matter be longed unto thee: we also will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it.—Ezra 10:4.

Conscience in the soul is the root of all true courage. If a man would be brave, let him learn to obey his conscience.—James F. Clarke.

Inflation-Wary Economists Keep Eyes on Auto Market

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The government economists who are specialists in worrying about inflation, plus those assigned to anticipate recessions, are both finding abundant material for meditation in the immediate future of the auto industry.

In September, the 1958 models will begin to be shown, to launch what everyone agrees will be a crucial year for car makers.

Long ago Washington economists discovered that the enormous auto industry was a major influence in the American economy.

The auto industry is the best indicator of the prosperity or buying mood of the American public. The character of the auto market has great interest to officials here who must control the credit situation.

Those government economists who see the country's inflation aggravated by the auto market this year hark back to 1955. That was the best year in auto history. But much of the boom was caused by the appearance of three-year credit.

AS A RESULT of this, the economists reason, the buyers who took three-year credit in 1955 were kept out of the market in '56 and '57. They would normally have traded in their cars after one or two years. But because of the extra year's debt they assumed they did not have enough equity in the cars to trade them in as down payments on a new car.

Thus, by the time the '58s are out, millions of buyers will be ready to turn in the '55s on a new car. It is reasoned. And, of course, the auto makers hope this turns out.

It's a certainty that car prices will be up somewhat. The increase in the cost of steel and the cost-of-living raises which the auto workers have just received are responsible.

On top of all this the industry is preparing for its most competitive year, with each manufacturer about to launch unprecedented sales promotion campaigns.

Ford during the past six months has set a record for itself by capturing 30.21 per cent of the passenger car market. It is eager to hang on to this gain and improve it. Ford is also introducing the new Edsel, an unprecedented quarter-billion-dollar effort.

CHRYSLER HAS ALSO had a boom year, capturing 19.05 per cent of the market. It, too, will be fighting to hold this share of the business.

General Motors suffered most, dropping to 44.10 per cent of the market for the first six months of 1957. It is coming out with a completely new Chevy and Pontiac and a drastically changed Buick and Oldsmobile.

This is GM's 50th anniversary, and, needless to say, it will use this peg for a gigantic sales effort to recapture the markets it lost this year.

From all this it would appear that the preponderance of evidence indicates a huge year, with a boost to general inflation as an inevitable by-product. But there is an interesting reverse side to the picture.

After the industry had committed itself to bigger, fancier, more expensive lines for '58, strong signs began to appear that the public had become economy-minded and conservative in its car-buying thinking.

The big boom in the sale of cheap, small foreign cars was the first indication. During the first six months, sales of the small cars doubled over the same period last year.

THEN STUDEBAKER-PACKARD announced that it was coming out with a new economy line to be called the Scotsman. The public has received this car with great enthusiasm. It could be S-P's salvation.

American Motors has had increasing success with its big effort to sell economy of car and operation of its Ramblers and Metropolitans. It recently announced it will make a Rambler which sells below the price of the Scotsman.

If this increased public interest in smaller, cheaper cars turns out to be a major trend, Detroit's Big Three will be in trouble before the winter is out. It might also mean that the public just isn't as interested in new cars as much as it has been the past several years.

If this is true there will be serious unemployment among the economists whose specialty is worrying about inflation.

It seems that some of our teenagers have gone wild.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Who's singing the Ennio Pinza role in "South Pacific?"

You could answer Rossano Brazzi and Georgia Tozzi and be right both times. And if you don't mind the observation—both rhyme with holy-toady.

"I have sung a little bit," Brazzi told me before leaving for the "South Pacific" shooting in the Hawaiian Islands. "Mostly it was on the stage in the earlier part of my career."

"The studio has worked out a method like that used by Deborah Kerr in 'The Band Wagon' and I. Rossano Brazzi's voice will be used for the high and the low notes. It has worked out very well. Although he sounds like me."

Tozzi is the operatic basso who played the Pinza role opposite Mary Martin in the local civic light opera run of "Sopac" this summer.

In 1958, California can add five more to the thousands who are coming to live on these shores. They'll be Pat Boone and family.

The crooner said the declining factor would be how his film career pans out.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt about his film career — Twentieth Century-Fox figures him to be a draw long after the fad for Elvis Presley dies out.

Should Record Mama's Pleas To Save Her Wear and Tear

"Keep your voice pleasant. A sharp, nagging or disgusted tone of voice used by a mother in speaking to a child makes for an unpleasant atmosphere in the home," says a child guidance expert.

Since nobody ever tells Mama just how to keep her voice calm and pleasant when she is telling Junior for the fifth time to go to bed, I'm offering a suggestion:

Why not a gadget for the home on which Mama can make a number of recorded requests and commands in a nice, sweet, calm tone of voice?

Then instead of saying irritably, "Please turn that thing down," Mama can simply push a button and her own calm recorded voice will give the request pleasantly.

GETS TIRED
When you stop to think about it, mothers' voices usually grow sharp when they are repeating a request for about the sixth time.

"I've told you over and over," begins Mama. Then her voice starts to rise in anger.

About 20 recorded announcements ought to take care of a mother's most often repeated requests.

If the experts aren't going to let us be human enough to show irritability when we have said "no" four times, then maybe we need a set of recorded remarks.

A mother isn't a machine. But if she is supposed to act as an emotional as one, why not let a machine make it easy for her?

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The soft spot in President Eisenhower's Middle East program shows up now in Syria, where pro-Soviet officers have grabbed control of the army.

That Eisenhower program was intended to stop the spread of communism into the Middle East. Eisenhower proposed it in a special message to Congress Jan. 7, 1957, approved March 7 in the form of a resolution which would let him.

Give economic aid and arms to Middle East countries and use American armed forces there to stop Communist aggression if an attacked country asked for such help.

Confronted with this, Communists were not likely to take the Middle East. But they still had an alternative: to try to take over from within by subversion or even military means.

And Eisenhower's program had no direct answer for the question: What does the United States do if the Communists in any one country—or in one country after another—seize power by subversion?

Now the United States and its allies seem puzzled what to do about Syria. It still isn't clear whether the pro-Soviet officers' control of the army has made Syria a Russian satellite.

Eisenhower never pretended his program had all the answers for keeping communism out of the area. But Secretary of State Dulles seemed more optimistic. At least he did one time, and at another he didn't.

On Jan. 7, in an explanation to Congress of Eisenhower's program, Dulles pictured three perils from communism in the Middle East: outright armed attack, subversion and take-over by allure.

Dulles said the first threat would be met "if need be by the armed forces of the United States." He predicted the other two would be thwarted by increased confidence and anti-Communist vigilance resulting from the shield of U. S. military protection and ready economy aid.

But Syria never accepted any aid under the Eisenhower program. It was getting arms from Russia and recently signed an agreement with the Soviets to get economic assistance from them.

Thus any confidence the Syrians developed was in Russia, not in the United States.

But what was Dulles' solution if Communists, despite his optimism to the contrary, did get control of a Mideast nation? He had an answer for that too.

The United States, he said, would not invade such a country but would learn to live with it, as the United States gets along with Communist Yugoslavia.

Tuesday the new Syrian army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Afif Bizry deriding American leadership although speaking kindly of Eisenhower, accused this country of directing an assassination plot against members of the Syrian government.

Bizry was asked at a news conference in Syria if he was a Communist or pro-Soviet. He avoided a direct answer, but said: "Is it forbidden for a person to carry thoughts?"

The recipe books on the market grow in size and in number with every passing year. Although there is much of repetition in many of these culinary mixtures, one finds variation in the flavoring and in the resultant taste.

Although there are scores of herbs and seasonings used to create appetizing differences between foods, there is one seasoning which is found in almost every recipe. Salt gives a foundation of flavor on which other flavors depend.

The religious influence in our lives gives basic flavor to every phase of life. We cannot think or work, sleep or walk, buy or sell without the spiritual influence of God's presence or absence.

The application of our religious beliefs to everyday activities gives the basic flavor we need for a satisfying life.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

All Healthy Youngsters Protest Going to Bed

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
The parents of small children often have similar problems and I am sure many readers will recognize one asked by a distracted mother.

She writes that she has two small children who seem to be healthy, but she has great trouble in getting them to bed at night and keeping them there.

They protest at being sent to bed, and once they get there they usually climb out two or three times for a glass of water, or the like.

I have never known of a healthy youngster who did not behave in this way. I suppose a child is afraid of missing something and perhaps also wants to make sure of love, attention and affection of its parents. It is true that by threats and calumny most children can be put to bed at approximately the time the parents think they should go. Once in a while the child will be good as gold about this if Christmas is coming or some other favor expected.

Parents should decide on a pretty definite routine of going to bed for their youngsters and should try to stick with it. If the child thinks that bed at 8 p.m. is the rule, it is inevitable he will usually accept it. On the other hand, if the youngster thinks he can get around the parents and have a later time for bed-going and get away with it, he will surely try.

Another problem which is not a common one comes from Mrs. M. D. She asks for a discussion of spina bifida.

This is a congenital anomaly or defect in one of the vertebrae of the back. The contents of the spinal canal may protrude through the involved area with serious effects. It is said to occur in about one in 1,000 births, but a high proportion of infants born with this condition die within the first year of life.

Because of its nature, early diagnosis is easy. The treatment, if that is possible, is by surgery.

Another question which probably involves surgery comes from a grandmother who says that her grandchild is normal and healthy in every way except that he was born with his ears lopped. One's appearance in life is extremely important so that in a situation of this sort one would have to consider the possibility of plastic surgery to improve the appearance of the ears.

However, they sometimes persist bed for their youngsters and should try to stick with it. If the child thinks that bed at 8 p.m. is the rule, it is inevitable he will usually accept it. #### Instant Minced Onion Used For Quick Potato Salad

NEW BOON to the busy housewife appears in instant minced onion. It makes quick potato salad easy task.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

There's a new onion product, put out by several companies under various brand names, called instant minced onion. It does not cake or pack in the jar, nor deteriorate.

Made of selected white California onions, it is "flavor controlled" because all the onions used are of the same strength. Therefore, it helps to eliminate guesswork from seasoning.

When a recipe calls for: 1 small onion—use 1 tablespoon instant minced onion. 1 medium onion—use 2 tablespoons instant minced onion. 1 large onion—use 3 to 4 tablespoons instant minced onion.

Quick Potato-Onion Salad (Yield: 6 servings)
Place 1 quart hot, cooked, diced potatoes in a mixing bowl. Make a well in the center. Break in 1 egg. Add

College Quartet To Sing Here

Featured at the annual church school picnic of the Church of the Nazarene of Jacksonville Saturday evening, Aug. 24, will be the Ambassador Quartet of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill. Members of the quartet are Cliff Everett, Columbus, Ohio; Harold Keech, Grand Haven, Mich.; Merwyn Matson, Britt, Iowa; and Boyd Fees, Bourbonnais, Ill. They offer a varied program of hymns and spirituals. Dr. Otis Sayer, a faculty representative of the college, will accompany the quartet to speak for the college and bring a devotional message. Friends and members of the church and Sunday school are invited to bring a basket supper at 5:30 p.m. Saturday evening to the large shelter at Nichols Park. Following the supper hour together, the quartet and Dr. Sayer will present a worthwhile program. The pastor, Rev. Anton Eiter, and congregation extend to all a most cordial welcome.

Interpreting The News

BY J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

The Western Allies are taking a calculated and desperate risk at the disarmament conference in an effort to undercut Russia's phony peace propaganda.

If Russia should happen to accept the conditions under which they offer a suspension of atomic weapons tests they would be confronted with serious problems.

Britain is just in the midst of a testing program as a part of her general shift to reliance on atomic weapons in her defense posture.

France is believed to be just about ready for her first tests. Her willingness to go along with the American offer must be based on the belief that it will not be accepted at all, or that there will be sufficient delay to let her production get under way. France has no intention of being caught in a freeze which would leave her without this strength.

The United States is gambling either that Russia will not accept, or that she can manage some way to keep her research organization together without its being able to test its work, while awaiting proof that Russia will keep an agreement.

The concession is offered against a background of arms limitation and inspection proposals on which Russia has shown no signs of agreement.

These include alternatives for setting up zones of aerial, ground and port inspection in an effort to promote a mutual feeling of security against surprise attack.

Russia has consistently refused to give any life to her own or the Allied proposals for inspection to guarantee against violation of any part of the proposed agreements.

But the Allies, led by the United States, have now offered important concessions in an effort to either reach an agreement or expose Russian insincerity.

If Russia does not accept, the Allied propaganda victory will not be too clear since there will always be the suspicion that they wouldn't go through with it either. But it will at least give them an excuse for getting out of the long and fruitless discussions, with their unsettling effect on world politics.

Former Jacksonville Man Commended For Heroism In Peoria

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Andrews, 906 Routt street, have received word that their son has been commended for heroism by the Peoria Fire and Police Commission.

The letter addressed to Sgt. Frank Andrews reads:

"Dear Sergeant: The members of the Fire and Police Commission wish to take this opportunity to personally commend you for your outstanding service on Wednesday, July 31, 1957 when you entered the gear pit to rescue Clyde Mitchell, of Evansville, Indiana, who was caught in the gears due to the raising of the bridge span by the operator."

"Having investigated the circumstances, this board is of the opinion that you disregarded your own safety to save a life. Your action was an excellent display of courage and an outstanding example of calm and deliberate conduct in the excitement of the great emergency that existed at the time. Your promptness in organizing and effecting the rescue of the injured man indicates the capable ability of an outstanding police sergeant."

"On behalf of the citizens of this community, we take this opportunity to thank you for heroism."

"Most gratefully yours, Board of Fire and Police Commission"

On July 31 a 51-year-old hitchhiker, Clyde Mitchell, and his wife were caught in the center of the Franklin St. draw bridge; as the section raised, the man rolled into the span's gears. His wife, Mable, who managed to cling to the bridge railing, was presented a gift to the pastor. Rev. Bueltmann responded with a brief address. Messages from congregations served by Rev. Bueltmann were read or heard via tape recordings.

Rev. Bueltmann was ordained in Eagle Rock Lutheran church, Los Angeles, Calif. on July 31, 1932.

Among the out of town guests present were Miss Minnie Bueltmann, Herbert Bueltmann, Robert Kerr, Miss Ethel Epling, Miss Carol Underwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stork and family, all of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lehmann and son Charles, of Whitestone, N. Y.

Watermelons, which originated in Africa, were first brought to U. S. shores by Massachusetts colonists in the late 1620's.

Leopards are found in all sections of India, from the high Himalayas in the north to the low tropical forests in the south. Average depth of Hudson Bay is 70 fathoms, or 420 feet.

Bloodmobile To Be In Carrollton August 26

CARROLLTON—The Red Cross Bloodmobile is following a new policy in Greene county and will therefore be in the county five times during the fiscal year which began in July, 1957, and ends the last of June, 1958. In pursuance of the new plan the Bloodmobile will be in Carrollton at the local Baptist church from 12 noon until 6 p.m. Monday, Aug. 26, and the quota for this visit is 150 pints of blood, which is smaller than usual because of the change in the number of visits to the county.

The visit of the Bloodmobile is being sponsored this month by the membership of the Baptist church with the members of the

No wasted power effort, no excess pounds in the wrong places—that's the key to Task-Force efficiency. Chevy trucks with the right power—more usable load space—stay and save on any job!

From Chevrolet... a just-right blending of space, weight and engine performance designed to get your jobs done quickly and efficiently.

There's no excess metal going along for the ride in Chevrolet trucks... and you can count on having the right power for your job, too! Chevrolet offers the widest range yet of closely graduated power choices from the economical 140-hp Thriftmaster 6 to the high-torque 210-hp Super Loadmaster V8. Light-duty models feature America's most popular 6-cylinder engines—economical, trouble-free chumps that are famous for the way they keep reeling off the miles.

Shortest stroke If your job calls for more power—Chevrolet's ultra-modern short-stroke V8 offers extra power per pound, longer wear... and a compact design that minimizes engine weight to give you additional money-saving payload capacity. Rugged Chevrolet V8's help you stay and save on the job.

High-capacity pickups Chevrolet's perky pickups give you bodies up to 108" long with grain-tight tailgates that can be used for extended loading. And you get traditional Chevrolet economy—the same as you do in every other Task-Force truck. Let your Chevrolet dealer show you the right truck for your job!

park, with 79 members attending. Only four members of the family were unable to be present, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Mosley, Becky and Joe of Jacksonville.

A buffet dinner and supper was enjoyed and the rest of the day was spent socially.

During the past year there were three births: a daughter, Georgia Kay to Mr. and Mrs. John Heth of Peoria; a son, Gerald Lee to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Beard of Arenzville; and a son, Gregg Alden to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roegge of Beardstown.

One marriage, Miss Jeanne Beets of Arenzville and John Haynes of Mason City.

Those attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beard of Golden; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Strout of Joliet; Mr. and Mrs. John Heth and Georgia Kay of Peoria; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Beard, Mary Jo and Toni of Bettendorf, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs.

Thomas Baird, Tommy and John of Peoria Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dimmitt, Mike and Gary of Pittsfield; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Niestradt, Jim, Kathy, Bob and Danny of Bushnell; Mr. and Mrs. John Haynes of Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. John Beard, Dick, Danny and Patsy of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Max Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roegge, Chris and Gregg, of Beardstown; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kolberer of Chapin; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beard and Jim, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kolberer and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Beets, Beverly, Mervin, Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beard and Karen, Mr. and Mrs.

Eagles To Burn $10,000 Mortgage In Jersey County

JERSEYVILLE—The Jerseyville Lodge Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold a "Mortgage Burning" ceremony Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on South State street in front of the local Eagle's Home, and at that time the $10,000 mortgage on the "Aerie" will be given to the flames.

During the afternoon, the local lodge will hold an open house to the people of the community between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock. Refreshments of ice cream and cake will also be served to all visitors at the aerie.

During the past year, the local lodge has been expanding its previous quarters with a ten thousand dollar addition, to the rear of the older two story building.

The present officers of the Jerseyville Lodge are as follows: Paul Long, president; Wesley Powers, past president; A. R. Major, secretary; Carl Ketchum, treasurer; Raymond Dugan, vice president; Charles Menzie, conductor; Clifford Alexander, John Cory and Rupert Greeling, trustees.

In conjunction with the mortgage-burning ceremonies Sunday afternoon, there will be other program features including music by the local Carvets Drum and Bugle Corps sponsored by the Jerseyville Post Veterans of Foreign Wars.

DURBIN NEWS NOTES

There will be no Oxley reunion this year.

Major Don Davis is spending a few days here on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. Davis, in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Smith, Rhoda Scott and Fred Scott spent Sunday at Robert Allerton Park near Champaign.

Probers Use Wire Tap To Link Hoffa With Dio

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's racketeers probers sprang the recording of a wiretap telephone call on Teamster big shot James R. Hoffa Wednesday, and told him it was just one of a series to link him with racketeer Johnny Dio.

Counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the investigating committee contended the recording contradicted what Hoffa had said previously—that he had not interceded with President Dave Beck of the Teamsters Union to get Dio a place in the Teamsters.

Hoffa, a durable and contentious witness, disagreed. "I don't think I have changed my story," he insisted.

The recording was made by New York police in 1953. It had Dio in New York and Hoffa in Detroit discussing the progress of Dio's efforts to organize New York cab drivers into Local 102 of the old AFL United Auto Workers.

The organizing drive apparently had hit a snag, and the telephone conversation continued:

Dio: So, now what do you suggest?

Hoffa: Well, John, I better get hold of Dave Beck.

Dio: Uh-huh.

Hoffa: Dave will be in Seattle tomorrow. I'll call Dave and I'll get New York something in New York State now."

After this somewhat cryptic promise, the first recording closed with Dio and Hoffa making arrangements to meet in Washington in a few days, early in February 1953.

The hearings recessed for the day with Hoffa contending the wire tap did not conflict with his prior testimony, to the effect that he wasn't actually working to get Dio into the Teamsters and with Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) telling him:

"It would not be of great importance if it were not the first of a series of curious interrelationships between you and Mr. Dio, which are going to be described in evidence tomorrow."

Churchgoers in Bogota, Colombia, can go up or down to attend Mass. The Shrine of Monserrate, reached by an aerial ride, is 10,000 feet above sea level. Or they can go to the Cathedral of Salt which is 800 feet under the earth's surface.

Lt. Horton Promoted, Transferred

Word has been received here of the promotion and transfer of Edward R. Horton. He was promoted from lieutenant, junior grade, to lieutenant, effective June 1, 1957. He has been transferred from the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project at Albuquerque, N.M., to the U.S. Naval Post Graduate School at Monterey, Calif.

Lieutenant Horton is the son of Prof. and Mrs. George Horton of 316 Gladstone Road, Jacksonville, Ill. His wife was formerly Miss Charlotte Dietz, also of Jacksonville.

He spent his freshman year of high school at Howe Military Academy, Howe, Ind., and graduated from Jacksonville high school with the class of '49. He spent four years at Illinois College, graduating in 1953 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in mathematics and physics. He was a member of Phi Alpha literary society and was active in the Hiltoppers, campus dramatic organization.

During the summers between college years he attended the U.S. Navy R.O.C. School in Long Beach, Calif., and Newport, R.I., and received his commission as ensign at I.C. Commencement in 1953. He went on active duty in September of that year.

His first duty assignment was to the USS Rice County (LST 1089) as the ship's first lieutenant, or deck officer, and spent 14 months in the Far West Pacific Command in and around Japan, Korea, Formosa and Hong Kong. Upon relief from this duty he was assigned to the Special Weapons Project on Sandia Base, where he served as an instructor in nuclear physics as well as a field worker with the special weapons.

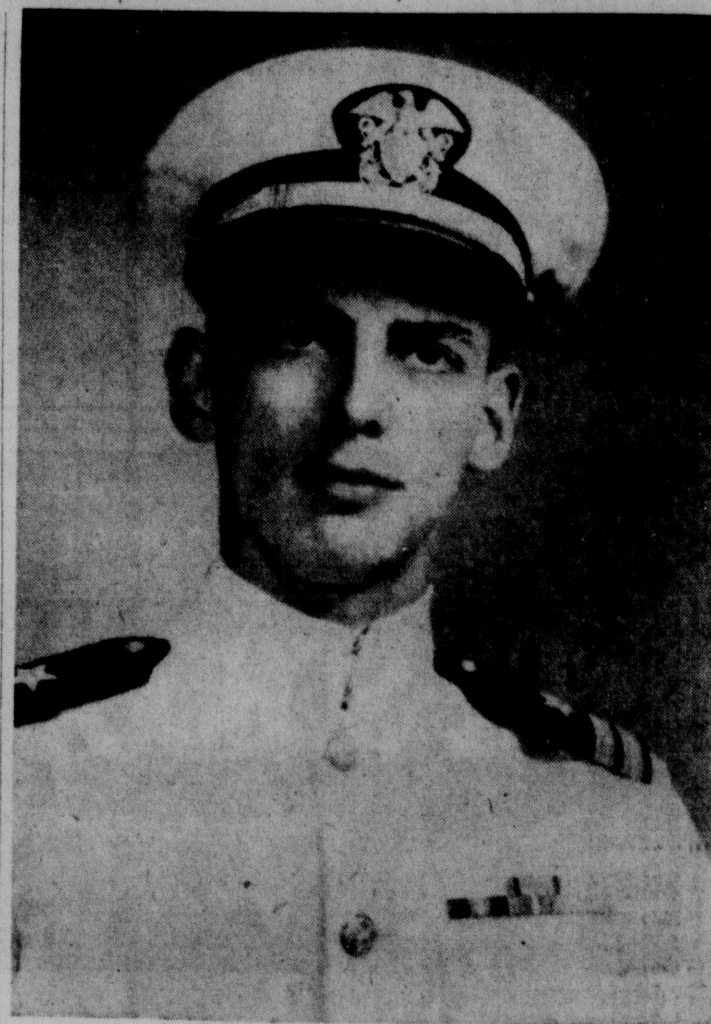

In June of this year he was selected to attend the Navy's Post Graduate School where he is to receive instruction for a three year course in engineering, the last ten months of the course being spent at the Radiation Laboratory of the University of California (their cyclotron laboratory) at Livermore.

Lieutenant Horton advanced from ensign to lieutenant, junior grade, in December of 1954, and went through the Navy's augmentation program. He advanced to lieutenant, USN, through the action of a selection board which met in October, 1956. He wears the China Service Medal, National Defense Medal, Korean Service Medal and United Nations Service Medal.

Mrs. Horton is a lieutenant, i.g., in the U.S. Naval Reserve. She served two years on active duty in communications at Moffett Field, Calif., and still maintains membership in the Ready Reserve in an inactive status.

Lt. and Mrs. Horton are presently residing at 101 Dana Place, Monterey, Calif.

The Grand Falls of the Hamilton River in the interior of Labrador drop 760 feet in 12 miles.

Palmyra Man Ends Life At Country Home

PALMYRA, Ill.—James Henry Rose, 82, of five miles southeast of Palmyra, was found dead at 11 a.m. Wednesday of a self-inflicted gunshot wound. His body was discovered in the yard at his home.

He was reported to have been dependent since the death of his wife, Ida May, in 1933.

Macoupin County Coroner John Perketich will conduct an inquest.

Mr. Rose is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Faye Hall, Carlinville; Mrs. Celia Dugger, Palmyra; and three nephews, Ernest Duncan, Granite City; Floyd Duncan, Palmyra; and Earl Rose with the U.S. Air Force in Turkey.

The body was taken to the funeral home where services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday. It will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Merrill Month, U.S. symphony concert pianist, always goes bicycling riding for an hour before each of her recitals. Says it relaxes her.

Capacity Crowd Attends Soprano, Flutist Recital

VIRGINIA—Sunday afternoon in the Virginia Presbyterian church, Miss Mary Ann White, soprano, and Miss Mary Ellen Lang, flutist, presented a recital to a capacity audience. This was the outstanding musical event of the summer.

Miss White is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. William White, of Virginia, and studies under Joseph Cleeland, of MacMurray College, where she is a music major and is a member of the College band and choir. She enters the senior class this fall.

Miss Lang is the daughter of Mrs. William Lang, of Virginia. She studies under Henry Busche, of the MacMurray College music staff. She will enter her junior year at Monmouth College in the fall, where music is her minor.

She is a member of the college band and Pi Alpha Nu honorary music fraternity and of the orchestra which plays for fraternity productions.

Miss White was accompanied by Miss Mahala McGehee, of the MacMurray staff, and Miss Lang was accompanied by Miss Charlotte Sunderland, piano major at MacMurray.

For the recital, the altar was beautifully decorated in gladiolus, garden flowers and a profusion of ferns.

Following the recital, the audience enjoyed a reception in the church parlors. The serving table was lace covered and was centered with a long low floral arrangement of white and pastel pink carnations, white rosebuds and fine fern. The large punch bowl occupied one end of the table and crystal cake receptacles, containing daintily frosted individual servings of cake, were placed on the opposite end. Mrs. Leon Dinwiddie and Mrs. Alice Dour poured and Miss Unok Park, of MacMurray, Miss Linde Jackson, of Monmouth, and Miss Paula Newberry, of Virginia, assisted in serving.

The entire community will watch with much interest the future of these talented young artists.

Mrs. John Knight, Mrs. J. H. Bray, Mrs. Charles Hopkin, Jr., Miss Mary Margaret Blackburn and Mrs. James Frisch invited 115 women to be their guests at a bridge party at the Virginia Country club last night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. William White and family were hosts at dinner last Friday evening, to Miss Mahala McGehee and Miss Unok Park, of Jacksonville, and Mrs. William Lang and Miss Mary Ellen Lang, of Virginia.

The explosion of the volcanic island of Krakatoa near Java in 1883 produced tidal waves felt more than 8,000 miles away.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

SEATTLE — (NEA) — While the Giants are busy trading in the Polo Grounds for Seals Stadium, the Eighth Avenue subway for cable cars and Toots Shore for the Top of the Mark, Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, and others talk of the need for a third major league.

But fans in Seattle, Sacramento, San Diego, Portland and Vancouver — all quite likely to be without professional baseball next year — are too busy dismissing Pacific Coast League owners as small men who lacked imagination and courage to care.

FOR IN 1951, the Coast League was in excellent position to become a third major league on its own — without a Walter O'Malley or Horace Stoneham stepping in.

As Stoneham and O'Malley practically wrote their own tickets for the coast — stadiums are being built in San Francisco and Los Angeles with taxpayers' money at bargain basement deals — the man on the street in other coast cities asks why the Coast League owners didn't go through with the program they started by obtaining Open classification and giving players the right to be exempt from the big league draft.

That was the first step toward making the Coast League big-time. Club owners out here seemed to have everything needed. Fellows such as Philip K. Wrigley of Los Angeles, Bob Cobb of Hollywood, Paul Fagan of San Francisco, Brick Laws of Oakland, Bill Starr of San Diego and George Norman of Portland had been through the boom years after World War II. And all were big league wealthy.

They had the population and the basic mechanism to become big league had been set up. There seemed no reason why it wouldn't happen. Then the owners missed the bus.

TAKE SEATTLE, for example. The Rainiers are owned by Elmer Sick, a brewer who could build a stadium easily if he could land a big league franchise. Seattle, with more than a million people in the immediate area, now figures to be without organized baseball because Sick says he is not interested in operating anything below Open or Triple A classification and there won't be much room for this caliber next season.

The league had only one weak spot — Sacramento. And if Oakland was considered such, the situation was remedied when the franchise was moved to Vancouver.

As recently as two years ago, there still was a chance. The league could have been made much stronger by taking in Denver, which the American Association quickly gobbled up from the Western League.

But the Coast League workers weakened after making their plans. Instead of building farm clubs and hanging onto players, they made contracts with major league clubs and took optioned players. They went minor league at every twist and the fans became disgusted.

So, now only two clubs are drawing — San Francisco because it is on top and Vancouver, where the game is still novel — and people out here are wondering what's going to happen next.

BIG LEAGUE GAMES being broadcast into the territory started the Giants on their way. Sports writers in Los Angeles and San Francisco began to clamor for major league ball. Customers followed suit. The final blow was the televising of big league games into the area twice a week.

So now it is the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers — and goodye Pacific Coast League.

If minor league baseball is to survive out here, there will have to be a resurrection of the old Northwestern League and the birth of a league of lower classification in Southern California.

Perhaps it is all good business, but the far western fan will never forget or forgive the men who had the third major league in their grasp, then passed it up.

Braves Rap Dodgers, 6-1, Burdette Gains First Win At Ebbets Field In 2 Years

BROOKLYN (AP) — Right-hander Lew Burdette, given a quick lead by Hank Aaron's three-run 35th homer, gained his first Ebbets Field victory in two years Thursday night as Milwaukee's first-place Braves whipped third-place Brooklyn 6-1. The loss, in the opener of a crucial three-game series, plunked the Dodgers 7½ games behind.

The victory kept the Braves 6½ games ahead of second-place St. Louis, winner at Philadelphia.

Burdette, beating the Brooks for the first time in four decisions this year, gained a 12-7 record, ended Brooklyn's winning string at three by permitting only seven hits.

The Braves rapped 11 hits, three each by Ed Mathews, Bob Hile and Red Schoendienst, who hit his 14th home run for a 4-0 lead in the fifth against starter Sal Maglie.

A walk and Mathews' single came ahead of Aaron's homer in the first inning against Maglie, now 6-6.

The other Milwaukee runs came off reliever Roger Craig, who took over when Maglie was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fifth. Singles by Burdette and Schoendienst came ahead of Mathews' double

FOOTBALL PROGRAMS WILL BE ON COLOR, BLACK AND WHITE TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Four of the nine college football programs to be televised nationally by the National Broadcasting Co. this fall will be broadcast in color as well as black and white, NBC sports director Tom Gallery said Thursday.

The 58th Army-Navy game at Philadelphia Nov. 30 and the Oklahoma-Notre Dame game at Norman, Okla., Nov. 16 already have been chosen for color telecasts. The others will be Big Ten games Oct. 19 and Nov. 2. The games will be chosen later according to director Tom Gallery's double

Yanks Slam 14 Hits, Defeat Athletics, 11-4

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City's Cinderella coach turned back into a pumpkin Thursday afternoon as the New York Yankees blasted five Athletics pitchers in an 11-4 victory.

The Yankees, shutout in the first game of the series and defeated again Wednesday night by the seventh-place A's, unloaded a six-run third inning including a grand slam home run by Harry Simpson. The Yankees got 14 hits in all.

The Yankees scored twice in the seventh inning against Dave Hill, a $30,000 bonus southpaw making his first appearance in the big leagues. Hill gave up a single to Mickey Mantle, the first hit of the series for the Yank centerfielder. Yogi Berra followed with a liner over the right field fence.

A three-run ninth inning parting blast by the Yankees came off Tom Morgan, the world champion's former reliever. Berra's single, another one-baser by Simpson, who had three hits, a sacrifice, and singles by Tony Kubek and Jerry Lumpe plated the runs.

The Athletics blasted starter Don Larsen for two runs in the first inning on singles by Vic Power, Billy Hunter and Bob Martin around a walk to Bobby Cerv.

Larsen's walk to Tim Thompson in the fifth, followed by Joe DeMaestri's home run accounted for Kansas City's other two runs.

Williams' Average Rises, Red Sox Beat Tribe, 11-3

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ted Williams got two hits in four times at bat Thursday as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians 11-3 in the rubber game of a three-game series in their last appearance here this season. The hits raised Williams' average to .386.

Mike Fornieles blanked the Indians on five scattered hits in the first eight innings in winning his eighth game against 12 losses. The Tribe got to him for all their runs in the ninth on a bases-loaded walk, two singles and a double.

The Red Sox got eight hits and six runs off Early Wynn, the starter and loser, in the five innings he worked. The loss was Wynn's 15th in 28 decisions.

Maglie To Appear On Television Program Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Star Sal Maglie is cool, calm and fairly confident about suddenly becoming television's newest pioneer.

"I know what I'm going to do, but not how," he declared in the tones of a pitcher familiar with tight spots on the diamond.

Sal, sometimes known as "The Barber" for his ability at shaving the hitting averages of opponents, steps before the NBC-TV network cameras Sunday as the first baseball expert to try big league dramatic acting.

He will perform in "The Littlest Little League," an hour-long opus coming to bat at 9 p.m. (EST). The plot concerns an 11-year-old lad, played by Peter Lazer, who has a burning ambition to play the game.

Although Maglie will be cast as Maglie, and there will be a few brief film clips of Ebbets Field where he performs in real life for the Brooklyn Dodgers the drama venture will be unusual for at least two reasons.

Sal will appear on camera only in street clothes, and his two big scenes will require a certain minimum of emotional portrayal, rather than athletic prowess.

"If I have the cues and lines I'll be all right," he said with the serenity of a man with nerves under firm control.

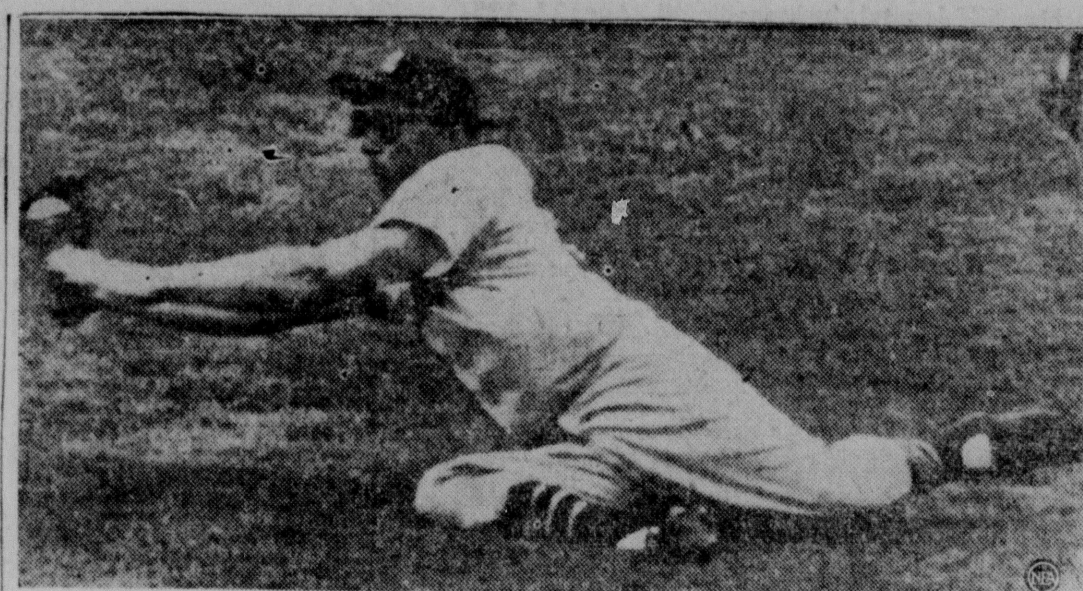

LORD CHUCK ENTERS HAMBLETIAN

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — The $100,000 Hambletonian at Du Quoin, Ill., next Tuesday drew another probable starter Thursday when Stanley Dancer, who drives Lord Chuck, said he would fly the colt west for the race.

"I worked him two different miles in 2:06 and may get a piece of the purse," said Dancer at Roosevelt Raceway.

Lord Chuck, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pivnick of South Orange, N. J.

Logan Fetschler and Nick Shuk are the only jockeys who have won Atlantic City's Boardwalk Handicap twice. They did it two years in a row, Ebbets Field in 1954-55 and Shuk in 1953-54. The feature was run in two divisions in 1953-54.

NO MISSES ALLOWED—Joe Cunningham, Cardinal outfielder, comes up with what ordinarily would be a big catch as he slides across the turf holding this liner. But with the Cards desperately trying to catch Milwaukee, plays such as these must become almost commonplace.

Bert Bell Tells Players Assn. To Take Demands To NLRB If Not Satisfied

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League Thursday, in effect, told the Players Assn. to peddle its demands to the National Labor Relations Board if it wasn't satisfied with his handling of negotiations.

An exchange of words between Bell and Atty. Creighton Miller threatened to break up the negotiations begun shortly after Bell dramatically announced at a recent congressional hearing that he recognized the association.

Miller disclosed in Cleveland that he had written to Rep. Emanuel Celler (R-N.Y.) charging Bell with stalling in negotiations with the Players Assn. which the attorney represents. Bell replied that the association could go to the NLRB.

Said the commissioner: "Since the Supreme Court has held that professional football is a business engaged in interstate commerce, the Taft-Hartley Act is clearly applicable. Accordingly, I suggest that you join us in requesting the National Labor Relations Board to assume jurisdiction over professional football."

In Washington, Celler said that if Miller's complaint is true, NFL club owners are "digging their own graves."

Miller said Wednesday in Cleveland that he would file an action with the NLRB if Bell didn't speed up action. Bell replied: "Let's make it clear. Our attorney wrote Miller Aug. 19, suggesting that he go to the NLRB. It is our idea to go to the NLRB, not Miller's."

Miller wrote Celler—chairman of a congressional committee investigating sports—that Bell has refused to sign a recognition agreement. Bell answered: "The agreement Miller wants me to sign goes far beyond recognition of the players association and willingness to negotiate with representatives of the association. Counsel has advised me not to sign it."

Bell said further that he lacked the power to sign such an agreement without approval of 10 of the 12 NFL club owners.

Just where that leaves the situation is problematical. Bell and owners spent hours at their annual meeting last January on the same subject. At that time they refused even to recognize the association. And when Bell dropped his bombshell of "recognition" before the House subcommittee, some owners reiterated their opposition.

Bell added that the league teams now are carrying out most of the demands made by the players last January.

SPINELLO MOVES INTO SEMIFINALS OF GOLF TOURNEY

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dr. Irwin Schultz said Thursday that Milwaukee Braves shortstop Johnny Logan is expected to leave Milwaukee Hospital Friday and begin workouts at County Stadium Monday.

Logan has been hospitalized for treatment of an infected area near his shin bone which had been injured on the Braves last stand at Cincinnati.

Dr. Schultz said it could not be determined immediately when Logan would rejoin the team.

PREDICTION MADE BY BRAGAN YEAR AGO COMES TRUE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was just a year ago Thursday in Cincinnati that Bobby Bragan made this prediction:

"If on Aug. 22, 1957, a lot of faces on this club (meaning the Pittsburgh Pirates) haven't been changed, there will be one face conspicuously absent."

Thursday was Aug. 22, 1957 and one face is conspicuously absent—Bragan's. He was fired as manager of the Pirates Aug. 3.

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Lary, coming on strong after early season miseries, won his third straight game Thursday, blanking the Baltimore Orioles 4-0 on a four-hitter as the Detroit Tigers took the final game of a three-game series.

The stocky little right-hander retired the Orioles in order in seven of nine innings, and faced only 29 batters.

The victory tightened the Tiger grip on fourth place in the American League standings.

Anne Richardson Gains Semifinal Berth In Amateur

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio, won a titanic golf struggle from Anne Quest of Marysville, Wash., Thursday while defending champion Marlene Stewart Streit was ousted from the Women's National Amateur Tournament by Carole Jo Kabler of the University of Oregon.

Joanne Gunderson, 18, last year's tournament runnerup from Seattle also gained a semifinal berth, outshooting Mrs. John Pennington, the Buffalo, N.Y., housewife 3 and 2.

The statuesque blonde Miss Richardson turned on the steam at the 12th. She plunked three irons in a row on 12, 13 and 14 within nine feet of the cup and sank a nine-footer on the 13th and a four-footer on the 14th for ties.

Miss Quest won the 17th with a par four.

Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a mark of a class guy when Gabe Paul, general manager, took the rap for the fading of the Cincinnati Redlegs as a National League pennant contender.

Almost invariably in such a situation the man responsible for supplying the material will take the easy way out when a club starts to go bad. It isn't the easy way out for the manager. He's just out, and it ain't easy to take.

"It's a not to subtle way of passing the buck. The front office men are in the background. The fans seldom see them, or think too much about them. All they see is on the field, and their visual target always is the manager."

He might be a combination of John McGraw, Casey Stengel, Joe McCarthy and Miller Huggins, but if the team doesn't win, he's the man holding the great big bag.

It doesn't matter if he has nothing but little leaguers to put on the field. He's supposed to win, that's all. The fans don't stop to think that the front office is responsible for the fact only little leaguers are available.

"It is my belief that managers get too much blame when a club loses and too much credit when a club wins," Paul said in his prepared statement, adding that "if there is any criticism for the failure to have a pitching 'bench' it can be directed at me."

Birdie Tebbetts, he pointed out, is the same man who had the Redlegs in first place a good part of the first half of the season and as late as July 4. He might have added he is the same Birdie Tebbetts who had the club in the pennant race until the final gasp last year, and only two games out of first place at the finish.

At that time Birdie was the toast of Cincinnati. Nobody dreamed that less than a year later he would be hung in effigy. And wasn't the chant in Milwaukee "go, go, go Haney" not too long ago, or until the Braves surged to a fat lead?

Last year Bobby Bragan was being acclaimed as a miracle man in Pittsburgh, having the Pirates in first place for a spell before they sank to their natural level. This year he's out. Joe Brown didn't have the patience of Paul.

Paul probably has a better understanding of the problems of managers than do most general managers. Naturally a man such as Joe Cronin is understanding, as he was a manager himself.

But Paul started at the bottom and worked his way to his present position. When you once were a bat boy you have nothing but sympathy and understanding when it comes to managers and their problems. He knows that a manager's genius sometimes is playing centerfield, or shortstop, or pitching. Take away those stars and he's just another manager.

Paul's vote of confidence in his manager followed that of front office officials in giving support to Freddy Hutchinson of the Cardinals and Jack Tighe of the Tigers, although they didn't go out on the limb and take personal blame for their team's difficulties.

Do you suppose this is a trend, this sudden display of front office support for harried managers? If so, we can expect any day now to hear general manager Paul Richards of the Orioles announcing he believes field manager Paul Richards has been doing a fine job.

MAYS, SAUER RAP HOMERS AS GIANTS WIN, 6-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays rapped a two-run homer in the first inning and Hank Sauer hammered another into the stands with one aboard in the fifth to provide most of the fireworks Thursday as the New York Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-2.

The Cubs scored a pair in the eighth on four hits, sending winner Ray Crone and then Jim Connelley to the showers.

In the rally Bob Speake, Dale Long and Ernie Banks singled, while Walt Moryn doubled. Marv Grissom came in to retire the side. Dick Drott was the loser.

Cardinals Beat Phils, Musial Retires After Suffering Muscle Injury

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Billy Muffett saved a 6-5 victory for the St. Louis Cardinals over Philadelphia Thursday night, shutting out the Phillies in the final four innings.

Veteran Stan Musial suffered a muscle spasm in his left shoulder in the fifth inning and had to retire for the night. It was announced that X-rays would be taken Friday to determine whether the injury would keep the league's leading hitter, and the Cards' pennant hopes, sidelined for long.

Musial was hitless in three trips before retiring, dropping his average to .340, eight points ahead of New York's Willie Mays.

Neither starting pitcher tolled the full route. The Phils' rookie ace Jack Sanford, seeking his 17th victory, was routed in the fifth inning after giving up five runs and seven hits, one of them run. Boyer's 16th home run of the year, a lead-off shot over the left field stands in the third inning.

The Cards remained 6½ games behind first place Milwaukee but took a full game lead over Brooklyn.

Buhl, Covington On Milwaukee's Disabled List

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves were jolted Thursday night when Bob Buhl, their leading pitcher with a 16-6 record, returned to Milwaukee for treatment of an inflamed right shoulder.

He worked out before Thursday night's 6-1 victory over the Dodgers and reported the shoulder still hurt everytime he threw the ball. Then Manager Fred Haney ordered him home for an examination by the club physician.

Covington probably will be out of action four or five days.

It was announced that X-rays should be made Friday to determine the full extent of the injury.

"Musial is a remarkable physical specimen," Bauman said. "I've counted him out several times and he's snapped right back and fooled me."

"But this time I'm afraid he's hurt," Dr. McTeer said. The muscle needs complete rest and any attempt at swinging a bat would only aggravate the tear.

Rodgers, Frisina Among Winners In Golf Meet

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Phil Rodgers, a freckle-faced teenager from La Jolla, Calif., rallied to kill off the challenge of Jim Tom Blair III, of St. Louis with seven birdies for a 3 and 2 victory Thursday in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Bob Pratt of Renton, Wash., co-medalist with Rodgers Wednesday, scored an easy 6 and 5 victory over veteran Bob Cochran of St. Louis.

The collegians came to the front as the 6,902-1 yard Old Warner Country Club course proved too lengthy and wearing for some of the veterans.

Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn., an NCAA champion in his college days at Purdue, won an impressive 5 and 4 victory over Southern amateur champion Ed Brantly of Signal Mountain, Tenn.

Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, N. Y., the NCAA runnerup this year, stopped Don Albert of Peoria, Ill., 4 and 3.

Jim Frisina Sr., four-time Illinois state champion, had to struggle to slide by Pete Dye of Indianapolis, Ind., 2 and 1. Frisina was 8 up at the end of the first 18 holes.

Jim Vickers, 26-year-old Wichita, Kan., old company executive stopped veteran Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., 5 and 4.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (U)—The Chicago hog market advanced 25 to 75 cents Thursday on rather uneven demand which advanced butchers mostly 50 cents a hundredweight. The butcher top for No. 1220-pounders among the 5,500 offerings was $21.50. The bulk of No. 1 to 3 butchers at 200 to 270 pounds brought $20.75 to $21.25. Sows were mostly $18.75 to $20.

In a cattle run of 1,500 with 200 calves, slaughter steers were scarce, but only about steady. A top of $27.25 was paid for one lot of choice to mostly prime steers weighing 1175 pounds, but the practical top was $27.50.

Good and choice heifers were steady to strong at $21 to $24.50, and standard to choice vealers brought $17 to $25.

Spring lambs were fully steady, with a 25 cent gain in the extreme top, to $25.25 for closely sorted prime lambs. Most choice and primes were $24 to $25.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (U)—Government bonds moved higher again Thursday in slow trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed to lower in the lowest volume of the week. Industrials were mostly down, while rails and utilities were irregular.

After the close, the New York and Cleveland federal reserve banks raised their discount rate to 3 1/2 per cent from 3 per cent. In the past two weeks, the 10 other federal reserve districts had increased the rate to 3 1/2 per cent.

Corporate bond trading on the New York Stock Exchange amounted to $2,780,000 par value compared with Wednesday's $3,480,000.

GRAIN FUTURES SHIFT IRREGULARLY

By RUSSELL LANE
CHICAGO (U)—Grain futures shifted irregularly Thursday on the Board of Trade, with corn contracts gaining on some nervousness about farm weather.

Weather also apparently decided in a downturn for wheat, after some early gains on export prospects. Weather reports indicated favorable moisture conditions in spring wheat territory.

Other grains met with no decisive factors in trading.

Corn showed the greatest strength in the nearby September delivery which climbed to $1.28 a bushel in a firm crest at the finish for a gain of 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1 cent lower, September $2.18 1/4 a bushel; corn gained 3/4 to 1 1/2 cents, September $2.28 1/4; oats were 1/4 to 1/2 lower, September 66 1/2 cents; rye declined 1/2 to 1 cent, September $2.32 1/4-1/2; soybeans closed 3/4 higher to 1/2 lower, September $2.41-40 1/4, and lard was 5 cents higher to 5 cents lower per one hundred pounds, September $2.52.

The buying stimulus for corn was not pronounced, but reflected a feeling that settling of fall dryness on the crop raising area too early could curtail this year's crop, already estimated at about 1 1/2 per cent under that of last year. The present estimate is for 3,666,000 bushels.

Generally, growing conditions have been very favorable in the corn belt for the last six weeks after late plantings in some areas due to excessive spring rains. The smaller yield expectations this year are generally the result of the July drought in the Eastern corn states, and a yield per acre discount because of a curtailed growing period.

Prober Says Hoffa Has 'Convenient Forgettery'

any such thing.

Hoffa frequently said he didn't recall, that he didn't remember, on maneuverings of the 1933 period.

'Crawls Around Fifth'

This prompted Sen. Ives to tell him: "You haven't taken the Fifth Amendment, but you're certainly doing a marvelous job of crawling around it."

Hoffa sat silent as Kennedy played a record dated March 10, 1933.

This showed Hoffa told Dio he had talked to "Hickey Guy" and there will be "no more interference" in Dio's efforts to organize New York cab drivers into a local of the old AFL-United Auto Workers.

At that time, it was shown, Vice President Thomas Hickey of the Teamsters was trying to organize the same drivers into a Teamsters local.

Plays Record

Kennedy played the record just after Hoffa had testified he had no recollection of trying to run Hickey out so Dio could have a clear field.

Hoffa, president of the Midwest Conference of Teamsters, is due to succeed Dave Beck as president of the whole Teamsters brotherhood at its convention next month.

While Hoffa was not as loud as usual on the stand Thursday, he was by no means silent.

Flares Over Paying Louis

One flareup came when Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.), of the committee said he has a report that Joe Louis, the former heavyweight boxing champion, was paid $2,500 to sit in at Hoffa's recent bribery trial.

"If he was, he wasn't paid by Hoffa," was the witness' instant response.

And in Chicago Louis said: "I didn't get twenty-five nothing." Louis said he was an old friend of Hoffa's and had dropped by the courtroom to see how he was getting along. He said he had expected to be called as a character witness.

There were no character witnesses called in the trial, in which a predominantly Negro jury acquitted Hoffa of charges that he bribed a lawyer for the Senate committee in an effort to spy out its secrets.

The jurors told newsmen after the trial that racial matters had no part in their verdict.

Just before he gavelled the end of Thursday's session, McClellan announced that he had been advised that the committee has an affidavit from Louis denying he received $2,500 from the teamsters to attend the trial.

The chairman said he wanted to make public note of this since he had mentioned the accusatory report earlier.

In both the United States and Great Britain the top 10 percent of the nations received 30 percent of the nations' personal incomes before taxes, says the British Oxford University Institute of Statistics.

Three Indiansians Confirmed As Federal Judges

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate Thursday confirmed three Indians men as federal judges in a quick ending of months of preliminary fighting.

U.S. Dist. Judge Lynn W. Parkinson of LaFayette, Ind., and John P. Hastings, a Washington, Ind., lawyer, were confirmed as judges of the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

Robert A. Grant, of South Bend, Ind., a former Republican House member, was confirmed as a district judge from northern Indiana to succeed Parkinson.

The action, by voice vote and after no debate, followed quickly Senate Judiciary Committee approval of the nominees.

Parkinson and Grant were nominated by President Eisenhower Wednesday after an agreement was reached between Sen. Capewell and Jenner, Indiana Republicans earlier this month.

Jenner reportedly agreed to stop blocking Senate consideration of the nomination of Hastings to the Circuit Court last March if Eisenhower named Parkinson to a new vacancy.

The Senate committee held a 15-minute emergency hearing Thursday morning, then approved all three nominations.

The Senate's action brings the Chicago Circuit Court up to its full membership of six for the first time since March 1956 when Judge J. Earl Major of Hillsboro, Ill., resigned.

Lane Still Gives Cards Fair Chance To Win Pennant

PHILADELPHIA (U)—General Manager Frank Lane still gives his St. Louis Cardinals, bolstered by a tiring but still great Stan Musial, a fair chance of winning the National League pennant.

"I'm not saying we're going to win," Lane said, "but I feel we're going to be tougher to beat now because we're hitting again, showing the consistency that any given day, despite our defensive difficulties in the outfield, makes us a ball club to be reckoned with."

Surprisingly, Lane made his optimistic assessment of Cardinal chances right after his club had been beaten 13-6 by the New York Giants and dropped 61 games behind first-place Milwaukee.

Musial, who has given up previous plans to rest himself by skipping occasional games, has 17 hits in his last 32 games at bat. Bidding for a seventh league batting title, he led the league with a .342 average going into Thursday night's game and was in front with 97 runs batted in.

"At nearly 37, Stan has done a tremendous job, bouncing back physically every time he seemed tired, to pick up the club and practically carry it on his back," Lane said.

Tarazi charged that the Eisenhower administration "is not aware of actual conditions in the Middle East Arab countries."

"The entire picture has not been given President Eisenhower," he said.

Milwaukee Pro Takes 1st Round Lead In Open

MILWAUKEE (U)—Manuel de la Torre, whose job is pro at the Milwaukee Country Club largely limits his golf tournament activities to close-to-home events. Thursday fixed a 5-under-par 65 for a slender 1-stroke lead in the first round of the $35,000 Milwaukee Open.

The three-time winner of the Wisconsin State Open championship led a wholesale onslaught on the Tripoli Golf Club's par 35-50 layout. All told, 34 pros equaled or bettered par over the 6,355-yard course.

Right on De La Torre's heels in quest of the $6,000 first prize were Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex., and Jackie Burke Jr. of Klamath Lake, N. Y., with 66s.

Bracketed at 67 were Houston's Howie Johnson, Walker Inman of Pensacola, Fla.; Al Bessellink of Grossingers, N. Y.; Don White of Alameda, Calif., and San Francisco's Bob Rosburg.

Sam Sneed, 45-year-old shot stylist from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had a 68, as did eight other players. Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., the defending champion, was in an eight-way tie for 17th place with a 69.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (U)—The stock market's recovery drive petered out Thursday as prices wilted in light trading.

Leading issues were down from fractions to $2 or so in a sluggish decline of a type similar to those which preceded Monday's sharp break.

Even the opening was quiet and there were fewer than usual initial blocks. Losses widened very gradually during the day and became more pronounced just before the close when there was a slight pickup in activity as prices sank to their worst of the session.

The decline was due less to selling pressure than to a thinness of bids to meet offerings, brokers said. The taking of profits late Wednesday at the tail end of the two days of recovery seemed to leave Wall Street uncertain as to where it was going next.

The over-all news background to the market was bullish, including as it did the rise in the cost of living to a new peak, bringing with it automatic pay boosts to 1,300,000 workers. At the same time, rail carloadings were reported higher and Detroit scheduled a rise in auto output.

But the copper price situation continued weaker. A degree of uncertainty was also attributed to doubt as to whether New York and Cleveland would follow the other federal reserve districts in raising the discount rate to 3 1/2 per cent from 3 per cent. The announced that they had done so came after the market's close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.00 to $176.20 with the industrials off $2.00, the rail off 80 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Based on the fall in the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $1,240,000,000.

Volume dwindled to 1,500,000 shares from 1,720,000 Wednesday. On the American Stock Exchange prices were generally lower on volume of 540,000 shares compared with 650,000 Wednesday.

Lutheran Parley Begins Sunday In Springfield

The 33rd convention of the central Illinois district of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod will meet at Concordia Seminary in Springfield Aug. 25 to 29.

The convention will open with a mass service at the seminary auditorium on Sunday, Aug. 25, at 4:00 o'clock commemorating the 50th anniversary of the district. Dr. John W. Behken of St. Louis, president of the synod, will address the assembly, with mass choirs of children and adults furnishing choral music.

Attending the convention will be the Rev. Herbert C. Rose, pastor of the local Salem Lutheran church. He will serve on the nominations committee of the convention. Serving as lay delegate from Salem Lutheran church will be Henry C. Ommen.

The 250 delegates will hear reports on the district's 13 sub-districts and on its 36 Christian Day Schools. Finance will receive emphasis when the district's $640,000 budget is reviewed, and the youth program in the 125 congregations of the district will be reported and discussed.

Dr. Gehnen will give detailed reports during morning sessions of the convention on the activities in which the 5,630 congregations of the church body participate. He will inform the delegates on the expansion of foreign missions in Korea, Japan, Africa, and other countries and will report on the church's extensive mission work among the deaf and blind. Reports will also be heard on the "Lutheran Hour" and "This is the Life," radio and television programs aired weekly over national and international networks and produced by the Lutheran church.

The sessions of the convention will begin on Monday morning in the seminary auditorium and will conclude on Thursday at noon.

W. T. Grant Co. Elects Two New Vice Presidents

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held in New York on Tuesday, Aug. 13, Howard E. Eades and Herbert T. Wilkinson were elected vice presidents of the W. T. Grant Company.

Both men are products of the company's executive training program, and have worked their way up through the ranks to their top executive positions. Mr. Eades, born in Rome, N. Y., began his career in 1927 in the New Haven store. After two years of general store experience, he was made an assistant manager in 1929. Three years later he was made store manager. After a four year stint in the U. S. Army, where he served as Captain, he resumed his career and in 1951 succeeded to the position of District Manager. In 1954, he became Company Personnel Director.

Mr. Wilkinson, currently serving as Store Management Director started with the Company in 1929. He too progressed through the ranks to the management of several of the Company's largest stores. After two years of Navy duty, he was appointed Eastern Regional Merchandise Manager. In 1955, he became Eastern Regional Manager, responsible for the operation of 180 stores.

The W. T. Grant Company operates 660 stores in 41 states. Last year the Company did over $380,000,000 in retail.

Walter H. DeShara Of Journal Courier Dies; 50 Year Career

WALTER H. DESHARA

Walter H. DeShara, 71, who for 50 years directed his rare talents and brilliant mind into the news columns of the Jacksonville Journal Courier, died at midnight Wednesday at his home, 1005 North Fayette street.

Death was due to a sudden heart attack. Earlier in the evening Mr. DeShara visited with relatives and did not complain of illness.

He wrote several stories for the newspaper Wednesday, appearing to be in usual health.

No. 31, Knights Templar, and the Springfield Consistory.

Mr. DeShara was deeply interested in the Salvation Army, being a member of its advisory board, and was a member of the Jacksonville Cemetery Board, devoting much time to its business without compensation. Other affiliations included the Elks and Modern Woodmen. For a number of years he was a member of the Rotary Club.

Helped Restore Nichols Fund When a bank failure all but wiped out the funds left as children's Christmas fund by the late S. W. Nichols, who was one of the publishers of the Jacksonville Journal Courier, Mr. DeShara dedicated himself to restoring the fund which had dropped to a few hundred dollars. Over a period of years his determined leadership, with the assistance of hundreds of citizens, built the fund up to more than $10,000.

In recent weeks he had been working toward installation of a plaque on a building at the southwest corner of the public square, in which the Masonic Grand Lodge of Illinois was organized 100 years ago.

Journal Courier employees found in Mr. DeShara an inexhaustible source of friendship, good humor and inspiration in every day work. Other acquaintances shared his great personality. He would tarry to help anybody, if they had a problem and he thought he could be of assistance.

Newsman Of Old School Mr. DeShara was a newspaperman of the old school whose life was devoted completely to the newspaper with which he was affiliated. Long hours of devotion to his job, he could accomplish his goal, and he usually did.

As Associated Press operator in Jacksonville before the advent of radio and television, Mr. DeShara was the first person to learn news of national or world importance. His typewriter and telegraph equipment were located near the front window of the old Journal building on West State street. His busy fingers typed thousands of words each night, while passers often halted to observe his skill.

It was during the fateful days near the end of World War I that Mr. DeShara's intense loyalty to his newspaper was best illustrated. He remained hour after hour near the telegraph sounder, waiting for word of the expected Armistice, until the time dragged into days and nights.

Beyond Call Of Duty The publisher, the late Mr. W. L. Fay, observed that Mr. DeShara was going without sleep, and asked him to go home. The energetic telegraph operator left the building as his publisher suggested, but found his way back into the office and continued his vigil. When word of the Armistice did arrive, Mr. DeShara was the first in this city to know it.

The sinking of the Titanic and other great news stories of that era kept him at his post many hours, receiving the news people were eager to read.

Adviser Of Public Officials Mr. DeShara was a keen analyst of human nature and a shrewd observer of local events. His counsel was sought often. A number of men who have risen to prominence in state and national political life owe their early progress to the kindly man who put them on the right track.

He was a friend of the law, a confidante of officers, who on several occasions found his quick thinking mind of much assistance in solving important cases.

One of his interests in recent years was the "A Glance Into The Past," a regular feature from the newspaper files. He was in charge of that column, copying the items that were news back as far as 50 years ago.

Often he would come up from the file room with a personal reminiscence about some event he had found. In the 50 years he had found. In the 50 years he had found. In the 50 years he had found.

He could remember much from his vast store of reporting and experiences.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Held In White Hall

WHITE HALL—Ground breaking ceremonies for the school building program of White Hall Community Unit District No. 2 were held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock on the site where the new junior high school building is to be erected, directly in the rear of the White Hall high school building.

Attending the ceremonies were Lee Silkwood, president of the Board of Education; R. F. Barnett, secretary; J. R. Painter, Bob Hubbard, Dale Black, Mrs. Lucy Lynn Collins, Harry McCracken and Kenneth Seely.

Fernandes and Nelson, Springfield architects; Joe Doyle of Jacksonville, plumbing and heating contractor; W. J. Ritchey, Superintendent; and Principal Carl Richardson of the faculty staff, and others.

Following opening remarks by President Silkwood, Rev. A. T. Monroe gave the invocation and Mr. Silkwood dug the first shovelful of dirt, with each person present also removing a shovel of the dirt. Through negotiations with the general contractor, Johnson Construction Company of Godfrey, the Board of Education decided to add a band room, fully equipped, to the plans for the new junior high school building.

This was made possible when the contractors lowered their bid for a band room from $10,800 to $7,866 in order to meet the low bid submitted for construction of the band room. This will add only $406 to the present plumbing contract, and the Mansfield Company of Springfield, electrical contractors, will wire the room and supply all necessary electrical arrangements for an added $514. This will be one of the most up-to-date band rooms in the area.

ILLINOIS CHARGES COLORADO VIOLATES RECIPROCITY BY TAX

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Illinois vehicle licensing officials said Thursday that Colorado's insistence on collection a ton-mile tax on all trucks has broken reciprocal relations between the two states.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said passenger vehicles are affected by the tax. He said Colorado trucks must now pay the same fees in Illinois as Illinois truck operators are charged.

He said Colorado offered to waive its $17.50 plate fee and its specific ownership tax but would not waive the ton-mile tax and would expect Illinois to waive collection of its license fee based on the weight of vehicles.

Carpenter said that a tractor and semi-trailer of 72,000 pounds that was a year old, Illinois would waive a license of $1,159, while Colorado would waive only a plate fee of $17.50 and a tax of about $217 for a total of about $235.

He added that Colorado would collect a ton-mile tax from Illinois-licensed vehicles operating within its borders while Illinois would collect nothing from Colorado-licensed vehicles operating in Illinois.

The pamphlet of 80 pages in an edition of 100,000 copies contains a collection of speeches made by the two Russian leaders on their trip to Finland in June. Its title "A Mission of Peace and Friendship." The price is 65 kopeks—equivalent of 16 cents.

Standard jelly glasses come in a variety of shapes in six-ounce and eight-ounce sizes.

ATTEND REUNION OF 83rd GENERAL HOSPITAL, U.S. ARMY

The fifteenth reunion of the 83rd General Hospital, U. S. Army was held at the Dunlap Hotel last weekend. Dr. F. Garm Norbury of Jacksonville was the Commanding Officer of this unit. It was activated and trained at Camp White, Ore. Overseas duty was in north Wales and France. As a neurosurgical hospital special attention was given to brain, spinal cord and nerve casualties and injuries. Almost 20,000 patients were treated overseas.

Members of the 83rd and their families have met each year since World War II. Former reunions have been held in Chicago, Atlanta, New York, San Francisco and St. Louis. This is the first time the reunion has been held in Jacksonville.

California, Florida, Texas, Connecticut, Georgia, Alabama, Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio were among the states represented as well as those nearby.

The group gathered at Dr. Norbury's home for open house Friday evening and buffet luncheon Saturday noon. The official reunion dinner was at the hotel Saturday evening.

During the dinner Major John H. Mills of Marion, Ohio, former adjutant of the unit, read telegrams and letters from "83rds" all over the world. The colors of the 83rd, pictures of various activities, and trophies won by the organization were on display. Next year's reunion will be in Atlanta as many of this hospital group came from Georgia and Alabama.

Guests at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Henry Dolear, Mr. and Mrs. John Larson of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Roy A. Wentz, Jr., of Wilmington, Del.

CHANGE MYF CABINET MEETING DATE

The Grace Methodist M. Y. F. cabinet will meet August 29 at the home of Gary Kinnett. The date was changed from the August 23 date which was reported earlier.

The cabinet will discuss coming meetings. The main topic will be the first meeting of the year. This meeting, which is to be September 15 at the home of Jerry Black, will be explained by cards being sent to all members. Several arrangements have been made for the coming year. It is hoped that all the members will attend the meetings which will be held every Sunday evening at the Church.

HOFFA: TEAMSTERS' NEW TOP MAN?

Below is a capsule look at James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa, the man, who, although he never drove a truck, will likely emerge as the head man of the Teamsters when the giant union holds its international convention in Miami, Fla., starting Sept. 30. Probably the most controversial figure in labor today, the 44-year-old Hoffa was born in Brazil, Ind., Feb. 14, 1913. His father died when Jimmy was seven and eventually the family moved to Detroit where he took his first job at the age of 16.

Possessor of a ninth grade education, Jimmy Hoffa, now 44, is after biggest single union job in the world. Hoffa started working at 16, as a stockboy in a Detroit department store. Now he earns $21,000 a year...

... in 1937, at the age of 24, he was president of Detroit Truck Drivers Local 299. By '46, above, Jimmy had risen to presidency of Michigan Conference of Teamsters. Hoffa glares at camera as his men picket a grocery...

Hoffa's family is his pride and joy. Left is son, James, 15, his hunting companion. Right is Barbara Ann, 18, who was president of her high school class. Wife, Josephine, is known as "Jo" to thousands of Teamsters...

"I know where I'm going..." says Hoffa. And in September in Miami he's going after presidency of huge Teamsters Union, a job vacated by discredited Dave Beck, left, who gives Hoffa pat on back at Detroit dinner in '56.

Missionary Group Meets At Hester Home In Glasgow

GLASGOW—The August meeting of the Christian church Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Lela Hester. A potluck dinner was served on the lawn.

Due to the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. Lou Adams, was in charge of the meeting which opened with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer. Roll call was a verse from "Jewels of God's Word;" worship theme: "We are the Family of God—" "Brotherhood of Toil," Mrs. Gertrude Evans, leader; song, "Nenth the Old Olive Tree." Program two was "The Bible Speaks." (A study of Biblical teachings about race prejudice). Papers were given by Mrs. Lela Hester, Mrs. Lola Bowman and Mrs. Helen Roper. The meeting closed by singing "Blest Be the Tie," and saying the Missionary Benediction.

During the social hour a Bible quiz was given by Mrs. Lou Adams. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lillie Wilson on Sept. 11.

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

BY GENE OLSON

XXXIII
THE black hump of north ridge grew. Ahead, the creek bed hooked and I knew it was time to pull out. I held up and reined over the bank. Then the gelding ran loose and free on the prairie again and I felt the fire at my heels. The horse still ran strong and I felt good about that. A half mile now, a half mile of grass and then the slope. I looked east and I could see the road where it broke into The Narrows. There was a man there, standing by a horse, far away black spots on the gray. I hoped it was Blanchard, stopped for some reason of his own and giving me a little more time. I thought about heading that way, then decided I wouldn't. It was a long way and maybe it wasn't Blanchard.

I felt the gelding's head drop and I groaned and got ready. A hole, I thought, but then I knew it wasn't. Just the slope and the gelding was pounding up, his head staying down and his neck reaching out and his back hunching. I heard his hard breathing and jerked the reins and got him stopped. I wanted to blow him a little while I took a good look at my back trail, remembering another night ride on the prairie. It came at me then, all of its big and ugly. No prairie dog holes to take my mind off it and just a few minutes' time between me and the basin. Cole Jethro somewhere around in the night. I had a hard, scratchy feeling of being mighty young. A wet, dark sprout, scared of the dark. Near the crest the slope flattened. Then I could see the south ridge against the sky, the line of it at the top bright with moon. Then the basin and the river came under my eyes and I swung east without looking too hard. I pulled up and then held the gelding on the crest. I'd expected buffaloes across the river. They were there, many bunches of two or three hundred spread over the basin grass, dust stirring in moving clouds where they wallowed, grunting sounds rising and dropping and carrying around the basin as the bulls pawed in the night.

I HEARD men yelling and sharp noises with rolling echoes that had to be guns.

Then, slow, the cloud of dust started rolling east along the river. I looked east, hoping to see Blanchard. The Narrows hung in deep shadow and I couldn't see into it. I decided I'd have to take a chance and head into The Narrows, hoping to find him in the dark. And nobody else.

Then I saw the patch of black on the prairie close to the line of shadow from The Narrows on the near side of the river. A rock outcrop, I thought at first. But I knew that place. Not on the flat so close to the river. A man then, maybe a dead one.

I thought of Blanchard and groaned, thinking I was too late. I turned and looked west. The dust cloud rolled faster and the sound was stronger with a rumble of it now coming up through the sod to me. I could see the bobbing of some buffaloes in the lead of the bunch, running hard with heads down. I couldn't see riders but I heard them, their crazy yells and gunfire coming closer, every second moving all of it nearer to The Narrows, nearer the black patch on the sod.

I knew who was down there on the prairie then. Sure of it, I was not Blanchard. No dead man either. It was Pete Dorsey, alive, but held in the thin strip between the slope and the river, the stampeding herd coming at him through the night. I was glad it wasn't Blanchard. I wanted to feel sad because it was Dorsey, going to die in a bad way.

A horse and rider broke out of the shadow in The Narrows. I guessed it was Blanchard riding hard, bent low over the horse pointing for Dorsey. My eyes held to the sight.

Sitting on the ridge, I was on top of it all, out of it. Safe, out of the way. I could feel the death riding under the boiling dust but it couldn't touch me. I didn't think it was wrong to be glad, just a little, that another man was going to die when it could have been me. I thought that and I remembered that Blanchard was down there and if Dorsey died under the herd, Blanchard died, too. If I went down...

THE end of it all was there in the basin under my eyes and I was sure. The end before a herd of crazy-running buffaloes. Dorsey's end, Blanchard's too, and mine if I went down. It was laid out for me in black and gray shapes and I couldn't keep it out of my eyes. I knew I could never see it any other way than I saw it now and I'd remember until the day I died and I'd turn it over and over in my mind, the way it was.

But maybe it was already over. The herd was running and there was no stopping it. The Clements had won and Cole Jethro had won and we'd lost, me and Blanchard. It didn't seem like Blanchard would want me to die if we'd already lost.

But then it came to me in the clearest, biggest, blackest shape of all, that it didn't matter that we'd lost. I'd already come too far. I had to go farther or all of it was no good, just a little boy building a castle in the mud and then jumping on it, crushing it, losing it. You had to go all the way or it was wasted. Blanchard was down there and he needed me. The dying didn't matter. I thought, when would a man like me get a chance to die in better company?

ARENZVILLE — Mrs. Arthur Warden of Beardstown, who was Miss Sandra Lovekamp of Arenzville before her wedding July 18, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening, with Mrs. Carroll Wood and Mrs. George Morrison as hostesses at the Morrison home.

Appropriate bridal contests and games were held and prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Privia; Mrs. Jim Warden; Mrs. Delmos Hierman; Mrs. Dick Staake; Mrs. Louella Davis; Janice Morrison; and Alice Alexander.

Decorations were of white wedding bells and blue crepe paper streamers, and the gift table was centered with a bride doll beneath a multicolored umbrella.

Guests besides those already mentioned were Mrs. Lydia Coyler; Mrs. Herman Kleinschmidt; Mrs. Cecil Emerick; Mrs. Howard Cowan; Mrs. Clara Wood; Mrs. Less Taylor; Mrs. M. L. Hierman; Mrs. Ruth Niemann; Mrs. Joan Delaney; Mrs. Russell Alexander; Mrs. Bob Warden; Mrs. Harlan Lovekamp; Misses Sharon Grant; Joy Schone; Bonita Huppe; Marilyn Clark; Donna Alexander; Sally Hierman; and Linda Wood.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs. Charles Cox and Donna; Mrs. Ralph Lawson; Mrs. John Lovekamp; Mrs. Stanley Lovekamp; Mrs. George Manker; Mrs. Ronald Schone; Mrs. Charles Grant; Miss Margaret Hierman and Freda Roegge.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Sally Hierman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Niemann of Evanston spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Lila Niemann.

Fred Tholen of Jacksonville is now a resident of Arenzville and is making his home with his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burrus and family have returned from a 12 day vacation trip to northern Colorado and Yellowstone National Park.

Wendell Wessler returned home Saturday after attending the International Walther League Convention at Stillwater, Oklahoma held Aug. 11-15. Mr. Wessler was a delegate from the Senior Walther League of Trinity Lutheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brasell, Eleanor and Emily have returned from a week's trip to Jackson, Miss., where they attended the National Convention of Rural Letter Carriers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison and family and Fred Tholen attended the Tholen reunion in Jacksonville Sunday. They were accompanied home by Misses Naomi and Judy Tholen of Pleasant Plains who will spend a week at the Morrison home.

Kirk Wessler of Peoria is spending a week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wessler and sons.

4-H Club Activities

ARENZVILLE — The Indian Creek 4-H club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, Aug. 15, at 8:30 at the Legion and Community hall in Arenzville.

There were eight members present. Talks were given by Eddie Hackman and Drew Clark. Entertainment was furnished by Terri Lovekamp, and refreshments were served by Byron Ommen. On Sunday, Aug. 18, the club made a tour of their projects.

Roodhouse Youth Attends Forest Camp August 11

ROODHOUSE—Don Cox, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Christian, attended a forest camp August 11 to 17, at Lake West Frankfort. He represented Greene County at the school, and his expenses were paid by the Greene county extension service. Each county in the state may sponsor one boy to attend the week long camp. Transportation to the camp was furnished by Jack Butler, Jersey County assistant farm advisor.

The week was spent studying the different phases of the forestry program in Illinois, including a tour of the forestry service headquarters in the area, lumber making operations, and other tours of interest. They also studied forestry conservation, how to figure the board foot of lumber in a tree and other phases of a forestry program.

Cox is a Junior in the local high school and is enrolled in vocational agriculture.

Ardell Kimmel, the local agriculture instructor, helped him make the necessary application to win the trip.

Waverly Couple Hosts Ten Year Old Immigrant

WAVERLY — Ten-year-old George Barchuk of Chicago is on his second and last week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Suttles and son, Jimmy. Wanting to help someone in the city that could not visit the country, Mr. and Mrs. Suttles asked for a boy about 10 years old, the same age as their son, through the Christian Center of the Baptist church. The father of George is a minister in Chicago and does not speak English but the mother speaks some. They were prisoners of war. The boys are having a wonderful time together. They spent Sunday at Petersburg, learning about Lincoln, and visited Lincoln's tomb and home at Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher Gibson, Jr. and family of Jacksonville spent Sunday with Mrs. Lucille Davis.

Announce Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Richard of Waverly announce the marriage of their daughter, Lavada Montgomery, to Marshall Kidd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kidd of Mechanicsburg. The ceremony took place July 25 in the Lutheran church in Decatur. The pastor, Rev. Stone, performed the double ceremony. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Don Hickman of Decatur.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidd are at home at 1833 North 20th, Fairview, Springfield.

Mrs. Ora Beasley and Mrs. Emma Delapp of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Maude Range of Jerseyville came Sunday for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gordon and also attended the Grimmett-Almond reunion at the Waverly American Legion building Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Chapman of Modesto returned Saturday from a 10 day visit with their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Beasley, in Huntington, W. Va., and the daughter, Mrs. Beasley, and son, Tod, returned with them to remain until Labor Day holiday when the husband will come for them. Mrs. Beasley is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon and they attended the reunion Sunday and were at the Gordon home.

Mr. and Mrs. James V. Gooden, Jr. and children Alan and Gillian of Quincy spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Gooden, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, Jr., and children, Patrick and Michael, of Springfield, joined them for Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Alderson and Miss Stella Rodgers, sister of Mrs. Alderson, who has spent two weeks' vacation with her and other relatives, spent Sunday in Joliet with Mr. and Mrs. William S. Alderson and family, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Alderson. On the return trip they left Miss Rodgers at Lincoln at the I.O.O.F. Children's Home, where she is a housemother.

Hold Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. Melton Branham and family of Springfield, Richard Branham of Girard, Miss Eva Reynolds of Jacksonville, Wendell and Stanley White of Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henke and family of Chicago Ridge and Mr. and Mrs. Lindell DeLong and family of Waverly had a picnic at Nichols Park, Jacksonville, Sunday. Mrs. Raymond Henke and children remained for a visit with Miss Eva Reynolds, her sister, and other relatives.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mitchell were Don Johnston, Mrs. Grace Dobbs and Mrs. Marie Snyder of Springfield.

Ed Narr, who was with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Chism, in Jacksonville after being dismissed from the hospital, and Mrs. Ed Narr, who was with her daughter, Mrs. James Smart, are now at home and Mrs. Smart is staying with them, being home about two weeks.

John Stuhmer Decendants In First Reunion

The first annual reunion of the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. John Stuhmer were held Aug. 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ray of Kibbourne.

Officers elected were president, Mrs. Leroy Ray; secretary, Mrs. Robert Workman; historian, Mrs. Walter Plunkett.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Good of Normal, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thrasher and Susan, Mrs. Howard Durr of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Workman of Arenzville, Mrs. John Stuhmer and sons, Edgar and Jim, of Petersburg, Mrs. John Bergman, Mrs. Anna Kunzeman, Mrs. Rudy Lane, Mrs. Marilyn Buchanan, Marty and Marsha, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stuhmer, Mr. and Mrs. George Stuhmer, Hershel, Darrell and Shirley, Charley Robins of Chandler, and Mary Salice of Virginia. ## Ethel Mae Dolan Hurt By Swing At Lion's Park

PATTERSON—Ethel Mae, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dolan, received an injury Sunday afternoon at the Lion's Park in White Hall, while playing on the swings. She was taken to Passavant Hospital where it was found Monday she had fractured a bone, just below the collar bone.

She was able to return to her home. Ethel Mae had a broken collar bone a year or more ago, and has been doctoring with a doctor in St. Louis.

The parents took her back to St. Louis on Wednesday for her appointment. Mr. and Mrs. Muel Cumby are enjoying a vacation this week at the Lake of the Ozarks. His mother, Mrs. Elma Cumby, of Glasgow, is staying in their home with her mother, Mrs. Anna Hatcher.

Several of the Williamson Baptist Church are attending the Sandy Creek Association, held this week at the Mt. Zion Church east of Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fry and two children, of Rock Falls, are on vacation from his work and are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Newton, and other relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Price and sons, of the Walkerville community, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Prindle, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Witty.

Donna and Elaine Shive of White Hall, spent last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norville Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cristy, of Granite City, former residents of Drake, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Muntz, of Drake, and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Burley Fry while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coker of Springfield were Monday visitors with his mother, Mrs. Naomi Coker.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith and son, of Marquette Heights, were weekend visitors with his mother, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Carl Emery and daughter, who have been staying with her mother since her father's death, spent the weekend at her home in Godfrey, but returned here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dawdy and children, of Champaign, were here Tuesday to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Belle Dawdy.

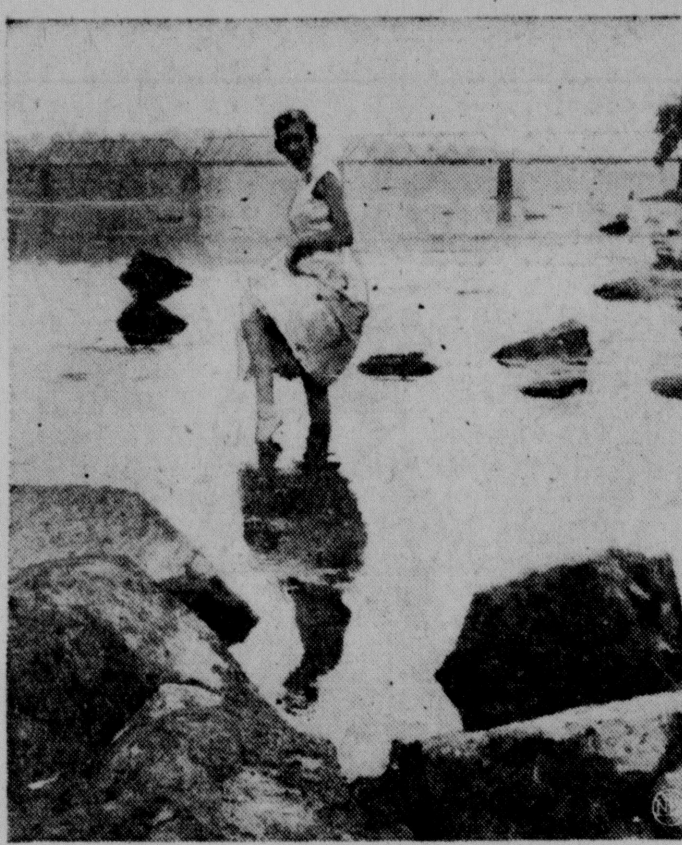

Dale and Dean Sorrells, of Patterson, and Lloyd Bryant, of White Hall, are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lovelace, north of town.

Mrs. Louella Gregory, of Winchester, spent a few days recently in the C. H. Dawdy home, being called here by the death of Mrs. Dawdy, who is her step-sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hicks and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Nona Owdom. Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Owdom, of Jacksonville, were afternoon visitors.

Carol Blackman, of Chicago, has been visiting with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wald, in White Hall. She and Donna and Elaine Shive, of White Hall, spent Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Norville Hicks. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lovelace and son, Feron Earl, of Jacksonville, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Barnett, and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Crabtree and son, Ronnie, of Morton, were Sunday night and Monday visitors with Patterson relatives. The WASHINGTON COULDN'T WAIT—But if the leader of our Revolutionary War forces had, he'd have found crossing the Delaware a lot easier. Gay Yeager of Newton, Pa., stands in the spot where Washington started the famed winter crossing. Severe drought has brought the river down to where one can wade across it. It normally is 13-15 feet deep.

4-H Club Activities

The Asbury Girls 4-H Club met August 17 at the home of Mrs. W. C. Cortee. Roll call was "How to Improve the 4-H."

Judy Davies read the minutes of the last meeting. All record books were checked by the leader, Mrs. Cortee, and the junior leader, Carol Hembrough.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. There were two guests present.

The Iconnu, a species of whitefish, was so named by early French explorers from the French word for "unknown."

Meats Will Be On Bargain Counters During Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Housewives checking supermarket advertisements this week will find a wide variety of meats at bargains.

Roast beef, however, is conspicuous by its absence, at least in the more expensive cuts. Beef prices were described as firm, meaning at a high level, by one chain meat specialist, and the Agriculture Department says they'll stay that way for awhile.

In this situation, stores turned to the old budget standby, chuck roast. Fryers and broilers, lamb, turkeys and spot offerings of spare ribs, bacon, tongue and liver also are featured.

High prices for beef—as well as lamb and pork—are due mostly to smaller supplies for slaughter, and it is expected by Agriculture Department officials that livestock production and slaughter will continue below 1956's very high levels for some time.

However, wholesale food prices are headed down again, and fruit and vegetable production is at peak levels in most growing areas.

This means that fresh fruits and vegetables are available from nearby fields and orchards. Outstanding vegetable selections are bunched beets, onions, tomatoes, potatoes, pascal and golden heart celery, peppers, cabbage and corn. Cauliflower and topped carrots also are good buys. White spinach and broccoli are rated as not better than moderate in price.

Peaches are a good buy in a wide choice of varieties.

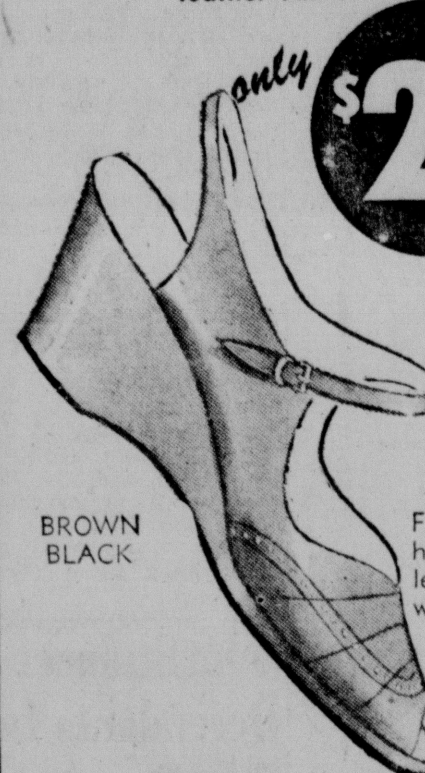

Seedless green grapes from California are flooding the markets, along with the round, blue-black reverses and red malagas. Plums in a wide range of colors and tastes are moderately priced and watermelons, on the bargain list for most of the summer, are still available.

Citrus fruit is mostly in the moderate class, too, except for Florida limes, which are plentiful and cheap.

Help-A-Neighbor Club Has Picnic In White Hall

PATTERSON — The Help-A-Neighbor Club met Sunday at the Lion's Park in White Hall for their regular August meeting, with their families as guests. A fried chicken dinner with various dishes was served at the noon hour.

Attending were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seely, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Westerhold, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shafer and sons, David and Ricky, Mrs. Pearl Seely, Mrs. Hattie Nicholson, and Mrs. Alta Young, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cade and Mr. and Mrs. Fain Nicholson were guests. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walls, of Manchester, attended in the afternoon.

The door prize, sent by Mrs. Jessie Barnett was awarded to Mrs. Martha Shafer.

The September meeting will be held on the regular meeting day at the park in White Hall with a potluck dinner.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Dawdy and sons, Mrs. Jessie Dawdy and Donnie Burton, who have been vacationing in the West, arrived home Monday afternoon, being called by the death of Mrs. Jessie Dawdy's mother, Mrs. Belle Dawdy. They were contacted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dawdy, in Yuma, Colo., where they were stopped for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McEvers and son, Stanley, arrived home Sunday afternoon from a week's vacation spent at the Lake of the Ozarks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bain and daughter Judy left Sunday morning for San Diego, Calif., where they will visit with their daughter, Mrs. Fred Kallal, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bigham, of Neponset, spent from Wednesday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Bigham and daughter, Carole.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hubbard were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Edith Owdom in White Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertie Cowper and Charles Cowper were down from Morton Sunday and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson. The latter Mr. Cowper stayed in the Wilkinson home.

Carole Bigham spent from Friday until Sunday in Springfield, visiting with Miss Sandra Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Dawdy and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Van Dean Sims were Sunday visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Dawdy, and family.

4-H Club Activities

The Outdoor Meal Members and the leaders of the Chapin Top Notchers Girls' 4-H club met at Nichols Park on Monday afternoon, Aug. 19.

After enjoying the afternoon swimming in the park pool, the members selected their picnic site and prepared a delicious supper over an outside grill.

Later, a brief meeting was held and the following program was given: a demonstration, "How to Alter a Blouse Pattern" by Pamela Reuter; and talks, "Hints on Outdoor Cooking" and "Things to Know Before You Sell" by Jackie Shepard.

Having spent the afternoon and early evening in the open enjoying fun, recreation and relaxation, the group then departed to their homes.

CAN YOU GUIDE A LARGE SALES ORGANIZATION?

A young successful national corporation headed by an outstanding sales and research team is looking for 3 men or women in this area with sufficient sales and managerial ability and experience to develop and direct a sales organization. The men or women who qualify and accept this once in a life time opportunity will get in on the ground floor of a national product with extremely large potential consumer demand. This tested product has never been sold in this area before. Income opportunities will be without limit. (One man in Streator, Illinois was netting almost $6,000 a month by his sixth month of operation). No investment is necessary as the men we are looking for need ability and ambition—Not money.

Write Box 8618 Jacksonville Journal Courier for further information. All replies confidential.
